ADMIRAL'S DEATH CAUSED BY POISON

One Dose of Which Administered at Time Testimony Shows Him Unconscious

ARSENIC FOUND IN STOMACH

Mrs. Eaton Is Composed and Laughs Aloud While Friends of the Family Tell of Her Wishing Her Husband Dead.

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 20.—Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton died from poison, at least one dose of which was administered within six or eight hours of his death, during which time, testimony showed, he was unconscious.

This, the statement of medical experts was the principal evidence introduced today by the government in its efforts to support the charge that the admiral came to his death at the hands of his widow, Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, now on trial for her life.

That Mrs. Eaton had many times said that she wished that her husband was dead, was the statement made on the witness stand by Henry M. Cates, of Rockland, who knew the family in 1910.

The Court House was crowded during the afternoon mostly by women. Many were turned away. Mrs. Eaton still maintained to a large extent the composure which she has manifested so far during the proceedings. Occasionally during the medical testimony she bit her lips and again broke out in laughter during the testimony of acquaintances.

Poison in Stomach.

Testimony as to the finding of poison in the admiral's body and indications as to the time and manner of its administration was given by Prof. W. F. Whitney and Prof. William Balch, both of the Harvard Medical School. These experts, retained by the government, had analyzed the contents of the organs removed from the body of the admiral.

Six grains of pure white arsenic were found and a greater amount was probably thrown off from the admiral's system before death, according to the testimony. Both professors admitted that the presence of a large quantity of arsenic had been accepted by experts as an indication that the poison was self-administered.

District Attorney Albert Barker in re-direct examination brought testimony to show that the poison might equally well have been administered by some other person. It is the contention of the government that poison was given the admiral in tea and other beverages by his widow.

The defense failed today to secure any confirmation of their contention that the admiral used intoxicants freely and then resorted to drugs to overcome the after-effects.

Mrs. Anna Driscoll, of Rockland, a friend of the Eatons, testified to having stayed at the Eaton home for three months in 1912, at Mrs. Eaton's request, "to keep this feeble old man away from a woman who wants to get his money." She said Mrs. Eaton believed the admiral was insane and complained that he was always flirting with girls and women. Mrs. Driscoll said that while she was at the Eaton home the admiral's habits were regular and orderly.

Henry M. Cates, of Rockland, a friend of the Eaton family, testified that Mrs. Eaton had expresed the wish at various times that the Admiral was dead. She asked Cates, the witness continued, to come to the Eaton home, and warned him "to be prepared to protect himself."

Following this advice, he carried a revolver, which, he said, he found no occasion to use. He testified that Mrs. Eaton nad said: "Do not let the Admiral get behind you," remarking that she thought the Admiral "wasn't right in his head."

Charles Hilt, a neighbor of the Eatons' in Assinippi, testified that he was told by Mrs. Eaton that she went to a doctor in an attempt to have the Admiral declared insane.

Mr. Hilt declared that he had never seen the Admiral intoxicated or under the influence of drugs.

From M. S. Shurtleff, of South Weymouth, a tradesman, came testimony that Mrs. Eaton had said that the Admiral placed poison in food she ate at a theatre party in 1910, in Boston.

Mr. Shurtleff added that Mrs. Eaton appeared to be so afraid that the Admiral would poison the family food that she had extra locks attached to the pantry door at their Summer home in Weymouth.

Miss Katherine Griffin, of Boston, testified that while employed as a housekeeper in May, 1912, in the Eaton home, Mrs. Eaton "had accused her of making the Admiral sick, of taking advantage of him because he was crazy, and of taking all his money."

"Mrs. Eaton has a bad temper," the witness concluded.

Assistant District Attorney Katzmann stated tonight that the government expected to rest its case Thursday.

The defense, it was learned, may finish its presentation of evidence by Saturday night or Monday forenoon.

BRYAN CANCELS ENGAGEMENT.

Will Not Speak at Southern Commercial Congress.

Washington, Oct. 20.—W. J. Bryan announced today that he had cancelled his engagement to speak at the Southern Commercial Congress, at Mobile, October 27th to 31st.

Mr. Bryan said he thought it unwise to fulfill an engagement which would necessitate his absence from Washington for so long a period immediately after the Mexican elections to be held October 26th.

SEVENTEEN DEAD, NINETY HURT

En Route to the Mississippi-Alabama State Fair at Meridian, Miss., Tender Jumps Track and Dashes Down an Embankment.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 20.—The number of dead from yesterday's wreck of a special troop train near State Line, Miss., is placed at 17, in an official report, issued tonight at headquarters here of the Mobile and Ohio railroad, on which the wreck occurred.

The dead are members of the 170th and 39th companies of Coast Artillery, and the Eighth Band. Ninety other soldiers are in hospitals here, receiving treatment for injuries received in the wreck. But one of them, it is believed, is fatally hurt. The dead:

Corporal A. T. Klavinsky, 170th company.
Corporal Joseph Johnson, 8th band.
Corporal Frank Chelewskie, 170th company.
Corporal Fritz Kohler, 170th company.
Private Ernest Paquette, 170th company.
Private Joe Leben, 170th company.
Private W. H. Brin, 170th company.
Private G. C. Gruelke, 170th company.
Private E. W. Panek, 170th company.
Private Virgil Remsen, 39th company.
Private Joseph Provance, 170th company.
Private H. Bishop, 170th company.
Private G. C. Burleson, 170th company.
Private Claude Teel, 170th company.
Private V. Van Stebbens, 170th company.
Private G. W. Goodes, 170th company.
Private M. Acres, 170th company.
Private Ostrander, of the 170th company, is not expected to recover.

Reports from the scene of the disaster tonight were that the wreckage had been practically cleared away, and that there was little possibility that other bodies would be found.

Officials of the road today attributed the accident to the derailing of the tender, as the troop train passed over the Burroughs Creek bridge.

The tender's wheels, it was said, broke many of the ties, allowing the rails to spread, and the passenger coaches to crash through the trestle.

Of the 174 soldiers on the train, scarcely a half dozen escaped injury.

Declared Frank Not Guilty of Murder

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20.—Ira W. Fisher whose story concerning the killing of Mary Phagan puzzled Birmingham and local police, tonight was taken into custody by city detectives. No formal charge has been made against Fisher at a late hour.

Fisher tonight reiterated his accusation that Mary Phagan was killed by a well known Atlanta merchant, and not by Leo M. Frank, who has been convicted and sentenced to death for the murder.

Local police, as well as counsel for Frank who had Fisher in charge for more than 24 hours, apparently are of the opinion that Fisher is laboring under an hallucination.

Private detectives brought Fisher to Atlanta yesterday from Birmingham after he had told his story to the police there. Fisher claims that on April 26th the day Mary Phagan, the little factory girl was murdered, he drove a well known Atlanta man to the pencil factory where the murder occurred. This man, according to Fisher, said he had an appointment with Mary Phagan. The man left the building hurriedly half an hour later saying "something awful has happened," according to Fisher. He supplied Fisher with funds aid told him to leave town, Fisher says.

THOMAS E. WATSON ANSWERS CHARGES

Former Presidential Candidate Accused of Sending Obscene Mail

EDITOR OF JEFFERSONIAN

Trouble Caused by Alleged Attack on Roman Catholic Church by Defendant in Which Questions Were Quoted.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 20.—Hearing of the motion of the defense to quash the Federal indictment against Thos. E. Watson, editor, publicist and politician charged with sending obscene matter through the mails, today was continued until tomorrow by United States Judge Rufus E. Foster, in order to give the court opportunity to study the language of the publications alleged to be objectionable.

Attorneys for Watson, prior to the opening of court, had predicted that the case never would reach the jury, and had intimated that it might not be tried at all. In this, however, they were mistaken, for less than half an hour after ocurt opened, Judge Foster called the case and directed that a jury be drawn.

Upon request of S. G. McLendon, of the defense, the drawing of the jury was postponed in order that two motions might be presented to the court. The first of these was that the government be directed to file a bill of particulars, supplying the issues of "Watson's Magazine," and "The Jeffersonian", in which the alleged obscene language appeared. By direction of the court this immediately was complied with.

The second motion of the defense—and the one upon which argument still was uncompleted when court adjourned—was that which requested the quashing of the indictment against the Georgia editor upon the ground that Congress has no right to abridge the freedom of the press.

Attacked Catholic Church.

It was admitted by the defense that Watson had written and published certain attacks upon the Roman Catholic church, in which the passages referred to in the indictment returned against him November 12th, 1912, appeared. Two of these passages were in English and one in Latin. Mr. McLendon, however, argued that the indictment should be quashed because the alleged unmailable matter was not set out therein, nor the names of any persons addressed given, because the publication containing the passages is not a book or pamphlet, because the language is not obscene within the meaning of the statute, because the Supreme Court has no authority to establish a standard of obscenity and because the statute itself is indefinite in that it omits the mention of newspapers and magazines.

The defense argued that the Federal statute is void because Congress has not the power to make any act a crime in which the element of unlowful intent is not involved or to abridge the freedom of the press.

Mr. McLendon recites the chronology of similar cases in the courts of the United States. He was in the midst of this argument when Judge Foster interrupted him by saying that it seemed useless to further pursue the historical aspects of the matter.

Exclude Obscene Matter.

The United States Supreme Court has decided," said Judge Foster, "that Congress can exclude obscene matter from the mails, regardless of whether it appears in newspapers, magazines or letters. This would not, in my opinion, trench upon the freedom of the press, and I cannot understand how any man will be unable to express his ideas without resorting to the use of obscene or filthy language."

Saying that the real purpose of the case was to determine whether the language referred to in the indictment is in violation of the law, Judge Foster adjourned court until tomorrow in order to familiarize himself with the exact nature of the passages in question.

Mr. Watson, who arrived in court a few minutes before his case was called, sat during the session at his counsel's table.

United States District Attorney Alexander Akerman, conducting the case for the government, tonight said that the trial might be more extended than he had at first supposed. Court will convene at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

It was announced tonight that when Watson's case is presented tomorrow the defendant himself, who is a lawyer and has been admitted to practice before the United States District Court, will address the jury in his own behalf. It was predicted tonight by court officials that arguments would be reached tomorrow.

CHARLESTON AFTER RATES.

Fund of $20,000 Wanted for I. C. C. Case—Dinner.

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 20.—The freight and transportation committee of the traffic department of the Chamber of Commerce entertained at an informal dinner at the Charleston Hotel this evening at 8:30 o'clock. Matters pertaining to the raising of a fund of $20,000, if so much be necessary, to be used in an effort to acquire more equitable freight rates to this port, by appeal to the Interstate Commerce Commission, were discussed.

At its last meeting the City Council agreed to appropriate as much as $10,000, one-half of the amount desired, on condition that an equal amount be subscribed by the business interests of the city for this purpose.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Decisions in the Supreme Court today did not include the inter-mountain rate, or other important cases pending.

FORMAL INQUIRY FROM WASHINGTON

The Presentation of Credentials to Huerta by Carden Draws Questions.

AN UNSYMPATHETIC ATTITUDE

Great Britain Called on to Declare Her Attitude Toward the American Policy With Mexico—Declares Coincidence.

Washington, Oct. 20.—While there was no change in either the status of affairs at Mexico City or the American policy, an international phase of the Mexican situation that attracted wide attention tonight, was the formal inquiry made earlier today by Ambassador Page at London, as to what was construed here as an unsympathetic attitude toward the United States by Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister to Mexico.

It is understood that the basis of the inquiry was a confidential report to the State Department, the contents of which were not divulged here. It is known, however, that what particularly displeased President Wilson and Secretary Bryan was the presentation by Sir Lionel of his credentials to Provisional President Huerta the very day after the latter had proclaimed himself dictator. The American government felt that Huerta's nullification of the Mexican constitution not only his arrest of the deputies but by assumption of legislative powers had so altered affairs in the Mexican capital that the British minister might well have withheld his presentation of credentials.

Inquiry was directed to determine whether the British foreign office had instructed Sir Lionel to present his credentials notwithstanding Huerta's assumption of power.

The explanation of the British office notice in press dispatches that the presentation of the credentials was merely a coincidence and not antagonistic to the American point of view was not commented on by officials tonight.

Diplomatic circles interpreted the new development as strongly intimating to Europe the desire of the United States to have a free hand in dealing with the Mexican problem.

Secretary Bryan when asked today whether he would comment on the letter of resignation of Henry Lane Wilson, former ambassador to Mexico, said:

"I do not care to discuss it and do not intend to."

President Wilson had no comment to make on the letter beyond saying

OUTLINES

Seventeen deaad and ninety others badly hurt, is the appalling result of a wreck on the Mobile and Ohio, in Mississippi.

President Wilson and leaders of the Senate and House are confident that the Currency bill will be passed by December.

William Sulzer has accepted the nomination at the hands of the Progressive party for Assemblyman from the Sixth District. He will begin his active campaign today.

Mrs. Pankhurst was ordered admitted by the Secretary of Labor, after an interview with the President. She is now free to go where she pleases in the United States until her speaking engagements are concluded.

A man named Fisher confessed to the police in Birmingham, Ala., that he knew who killed Mary Phagan, for whose murder Leo Frank has been tried and sentenced to hang. He accused a leading Atlanta merchant.

Charged with sending obscene literature through the mails, former candidate for President Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia, is now facing a jury of his peers. He is charged with using the language in an attack upon the Roman Catholic Church.

Medical experts who examined the stomach of Rear Admiral Eaton after his death, testified that they found large quantities of arsenic therein. It was shown that one dose of this poison was given the Admiral just a few hours before his death, at which time he was in an unconscious condition.

OPTIMISTIC OVER PASSAGE OF BILL

President Wilson Willing to Accept Amendments to Pending Currency Act

CONGRESS MAY ADJOURN

After Conference With Senate Leaders of Democratic Party and President Wilson Are Confident Bill Will Pass.

Washington, Oct. 20.—With President Wilson willing to accept substantial amendments to the Administration Currency bill in the hope of securing speedy action on the measure in the Senate committee, supporters of the administration today grew optimistic over the chances for the passage of the measure before the end of the extra session of Congress.

The President himself, in a letter to Majority Leader Underwood, announced his willingness to consider a proposal for a recess of the House, because, he said, conferences with members of the Senate committee led him to believe the bill would be reported to the Senate the first week in November and passed during the present session.

Republican members of the committee and Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, were inclined to look upon this point as too optmistic, but other members of the committee said they hoped to be able to live up to the President's expectations.

A reduction in the number of reserve banks fixed by the administration bill at 12 and the removal of the Secretary of Agriculture and the Comptroller of the Currency from the Federal reserve board which would control the new currency system, were the amendments which the President let it be known he would not oppose. Witnesses before the Senate committee have almost unanimously contended for these amendments and a majority of the committee is believed to favor them.

Retain Federal Board.

The proposed amendments would retain the Federal board as a strictly governmental institution, but would provide that it shall be composed of seven members, six to be appointed by the President and to devote their entire time to the work of the board, and the seventh to be the Secretary of the Treasury. The committee has not yet taken up the question of reducing the number of reserve banks, but suggestions have been made putting the number all the way from three to ten. Senator Weeks, Republican, has a proposal that the number be reduced to a single Federal bank to be controlled absolutely by the government.

The proposal for a recess of the House was taken up at the White House and at the Capitol today and negotiations continued without any definite conclusion. President Wilson's letter to Mr. Underwood, made public at the White House, said the President was confident the currency bill would be reported to the Senate this first week in November and would be passed within three weeks thereafter.

Later Mr. Underwood sought Representative Mann, minority leader of the House, and urged him to consent to the passage of a joint resolution for a recess of the House until November 15th. Mr. Mann, who has insisted that Congress should adjourn because of his belief that the currency bill could not be enacted at the extra session, postponed decision on the request until tomorrow. Then he went to the Senate and discussed with Republican and Democratic members the President's assertion that the currency bill would probably be disposed of in November.

Representative Mann's Idea.

"I found," Mr. Mans said later, "that the Senate was without a quorum, as is the House. I found that the President had not consulted with Republican Senators nor received assurances from them that the currency bill would speedily be disposed of.

"I found that in all probability the currency bill will not get into the Senate until the next session of Congress and that the President will be lucky if it passes by February. The President says there is an ambitious legislative programme for next Winter. Unless there are concessions on the currency bill there may not be much legislation enacted but currency at the next session.

President Wilson's confidence that Republican and Democratic Senators would reach an early agreement on the currency bill was based on talks with Senator Nelson and one or two other Republicans. Members of the Senate Banking and Currency committee expressed more confidence over an early outcome of the legislation than did Representative Mann, but none of the republican members would predict the passage of the bill within the time set by the President.

Victor Morawetz, of New York, director of the National Bank of Commerce, and a student of the currency problem, defended the administration bill before the Senate committee today. He advocated a reduction in the number of Federal reserve banks, however, and urged numerous minor amendments in the bill. When the committee closes its hearings on Saturday it will be confronted with hundreds of proposed changes which must be discussed and voted upon.

Spartanburg, S. C., Oct. 20.—B. King Couper, a well-known cotton broker, with offices in several cities in the Carolinas, was found dead in bed at his home here this morning. He seemingly was in good health last night. Mr. Couper was 62 years old.

Sulzer's Successor

Martin Glynn, now Governor of New York, is 42 years old, a graduate of Fordham University and has enjoyed a brilliant career as a lawyer, journalist and politician.

MRS. PANKHURST RELEASED

British Suffragette Free to Go Where She Will in the United States. President Wilson Took a Hand in Matter.

Washington, Oct. 20.—America's doors were opened today to Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and during the few weeks covered by her lecture engagements the British militant suffragist leader is free to go where she will in the United States.

An order releasing the much discussed visitor from detention at Ellis Island, New York, and revoking the deportation order of the special inquiry board, was issued today after President Wilson had conferred with Secretary Wilson of the Department of Labor and a formal hearing before Immigration Commissioner Caminetti on Mrs. Pankhurst's appeal had been concluded.

Secretary Wilson announced that he and the President had agreed that Mrs. Pankhurst should be admitted "on her own recognizance," with the understanding that she would depart when she had fulfilled her lecture engagements. Both the President and the Secretary agreed with Commissioner Caminetti in the opinion that there was an element of doubt as to whether the acts for which Mrs. Pankhurst has been convicted in England constituted moral turpitude or were political in character.

Commissioner Caminetti tonight issued a formal statement outlining the reasons for his decision in the case.

"There is nothing in the record or before me," said the statement, "to indicate that the British government desires that Mrs. Pankhurst shall be returned to England; and the evidence of record indicates that while she was placed under a sentence of three years penal servitude she has served only a small part of the sentence and apparently no effort has been made to compel her to serve the balance; but as a matter of fact, marked leniency has been shown towards the applicant by the English authorities.

"Shall this government deny even temporary asylum when by doing so less consideration would be shown Mrs. Pankhurst than England has displayed?

"Mrs. Pankhurst states, and counsel throughout the case have asserted that she is coming here only for a short visit for the specified purpose of fulfilling engagements to deliver lectures and that all that is desired is that she be allowed to carry out these engagements.

"Upon carefully considering the entire record and all of the circumstan-

Polk Miller, "The Famous," Is Dead

Richmond, Va., Oct. 20.—Polk Miller, a Richmond business man, known throughout the South for his plantation stories of war times and his performances on the banjo at many Confederate reunions, died suddenly at his home here tonight. He was 69 years old.

In late years Mr. Miller had been pressed into service by the Chamber of Commerce to help to entertain 30 or 40 National organizations which held their annual conventions here. With a bajo he frequently accompanied his "darky quartette" and related many original and amusing stories in the negro dialect. He appeared in nearly every Southern State, often with Colonel Tom Booker, another Confederate soldier.

A week ago he was the chief entertainer at a smoker tendered the American Gas Institute by the city of Richmond.

For 20 years or more he traveled over the South but seldom appeared out of that territory, because, as he explained, his dialect stories elsewhere were not understood.

SULZER WILL RUN FOR THE ASSEMBLY

Accepts Nomination at Hands of Progressive Party From Sixth District.

OPENS THE CAMPAIGN TODAY

Impeached Governor Promises to Make Things Hot for Enemies in Legislature and Elsewhere. Confident of Election.

New York, Oct. 20.—William Sulzer, impeached as Governor of the State, was nominated for the Assembly tonight by the Progressives of the Sixth Assembly District. Mr. Sulzer in 1889 began his public career as a member of this branch of the State Legislature.

Mr. Sulzer has agreed to accept the nomination, it was announced at the meeting where he was chosen as the candidate. Max Steindler, Progressive leader in the Sixth Assembly District, who placed the former Governor's name in nomination said Mr. Sulzer reached him by phone from Albany inquiring if he had been designated. Mr. Steinbler replied in the affirmative. He said he asked Mr. Sulzer if he would accept and Mr. Sulzer replied he would gladly do so.

Consents to Come Back.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 20.—A few minutes after the Progressive convention that nominated him for assemblyman met in New York tonight, William Sulzer issued a statement telling why he had "consented to come back to Albany". Throughout the evening he was in communication by telephone with Progressive leaders in New York.

There was not ony doubt but that he could have the nomination if he wanted it. Nor does he doubt that the first of January will see him back where he began his political career 20 years ago. He and his friends also are convinced that he will go from there to the speakership and thence back to the Governor's chair.

Some time tomorrow Sulzer will go to New York. He will begin a campaign for the Assembly immediately and speak day and night up to election time. After that he will accept some lecture engagements up to the first of January. If it then is necessary for him to come to Albany he will arrive here on the opening day of the Legislature to start the fight which he hopes will put him back in the executive chair. His promise is to make the "fur fly" if he is made an Assemblyman.

"And not only will I make it warm for my enemies in the Assembly," he declared, "I'll make them take notice in other places, too."

His Statement.

"In view of the urgent pleadings from life-long friends and the request in writing from more than half of the registered voters of the Sixth Assembly District, regardless of party affiliations, begging me to accept the nomination for member of the Assembly to further the cause of honest government, I have consented to come back to Albany as a member of the Assembly for the good that I can do.

"I shall be a non-partisan candidate, having no axe to grind and no motive or purpose other than to do what I can for the cause of good government—the struggle for which accomplishment brought about my removal from the Governorship by an arrogant boss whose dictates to do wrong I defied."

Sulzer agreed to run.

Sulzer agreed to run after consulting with a score of political advisers today. The Rabbi of every Synagogue in the Sixth district called at the executive mansion today to urge Sulzer to make the race. They brought petitions signed by 3,800 voters in the district asking Sulzer to run. There are to be only 5,700 voters in the entire district. Mrs. Sulzer urged him to accept the nomination.

Pleased With Nomination.

Obviously Sulzer was well pleased with his nomination. He walked up and down his office in the mansion, smoking a cigar, smiling and telling how he intended to fight his enemies to the last ditch. He waved his callers to a chair and began to tell how he regarded his removal as a possible real blessing in disguise.

"If the Indians declare," he said, "that everything is for the best, I'm pretty much of an Indian myself. I've been out West 14 times. Sometimes I think that's where I belong. People out there have written me since I started this fight against Tammany that if I were among them, they would send me to the United States Senate. May be they would. I reckon I belong out there. I don't seem to get on very well in this effete East.

"But I started to say that I thought maybe my removal was for the best. What could I do in the Governor's chair now. Nothing. But I can do a lot in the Assembly and other places. I can carry out my reform there. I tried to carry them out in the Governor's chair."

He was silent for a moment, walking the length of the room. Suddenly he stopped, closed his eyes and said: "Yes, sir, I tried so hard that I lost my job."

There were simultaneous rings at the door and telephone bells. People were beginning to call and congratulate him. He prepared to retreat.

"I'll see you here in January," he said, and he disappeared into his study with the injunction that he not be disturbed.

Nomination Unanimous.

New York, Oct. 20.—The nomination of the impeached executive was brought about against the desires of the State and county leaders of the Progressive party. The sentiment among the Progressives throughout the State and in other States was generally against the move, according to State Chairman Theodore Douglas Robinson and County Chairman Francis W. Bird.

Mr. Bird in a letter to Mr. Steindler before the meeting began cautioned him regarding the "unwisdom of nominating Mr. Sulzer."

"Of course, it is a fundamental Progressive principle that the settled will of the people in any district should govern in the making of nominations," Mr. Bird wrote. "Progressives everywhere will recognize that the committee must perforce act in accordance with the settled will of the people of that district."

After Mr. Sulzer had been nominated tonight there was a demonstration in the Eastside halls. Bands in the street outside played National airs. The nomination was made unanimous.

FIRE AT ST. LOUIS.

Warehouse Property and Large Amount Grain Destroyed.

St. Louis, Oct. 20.—With an estimated loss of half a million dollars in grain, the Advance elevator in East St. Louis, Ill., burned to the ground early today. Crawling up and down the strip of land between the Mississippi river and Cahokie creek, the blaze did another half million dollars damage to the warehouses of the Chicago & Alton, the Baltimore & Ohio and the Clover Leaf Railway Companies.

The few citizens of East St. Louis who were not kept up all night protecting their homes from flying embers awoke this morning to find a burning mound of 250,000 bushels of wheat, 150,000 bushels of oats and 75,000 bushels of barley. Officials of the company predicted it would take several weeks for the mass of grain to burn itself out. There is said to be no hope of saving any of it.

A rain which began early yesterday afternoon and continued into today, saved the city from a general fire. From the moment it was discovered at 10 o'clock last night, until dawn today the fire was probably the most spectacular ever seen here. For a radius of half a mile from the burning elevator the rain water was accompanied by an equally heavy rain of burning embers as large as baseballs.

Every householder within that radius was on the roof of his home with a garden hose fighting the flying fire as fast as it fell. Both the Missouri and Illinois sides of the river were lined with thousands of spectators. The spectacle was capped by the collapse of the elevator. Reduced to a shell of ashes, it popped open, hurling forth half a million bushels of burning grain. Half of this slid into the Mississippi, sizzled and floated away, and the remainder spread out on the bank and is still burning.

The grain belonged to Illinois farmers for whom it was being held in storage. The loss is covered by insurance.

THIRD ANNIVERSARY.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Today is a unique anniversary for President Wilson, for just three years ago he left the academic life he had led for twenty-five years and entered the political arena. On October 20th, 1910, "President Wilson," for he was so titled as the head of Princeton University, appeared before the board of trustees and read his letter of resignation, inspired as he said, because "the Democratic party of New Jersey nominated me for the office of Governor of the State, and I deemed it my duty to accept the nomination. In view of Princeton's immemorial observance of public service, I could not have done otherwise."

After presenting his resignation Mr. Wilson started on a wide sweeping tour of the State. That evening he went to Flemington, N. J., where Joseph Patrick Tumulty, then an assemblyman in the New Jersey Legislature, spoke from the same platform. It was Mr. Wilson's first meeting with the man who was destined not only to be his private secretary as Governor of New Jersey, but also as President of the United States. Tumulty's forceful speech impressed Mr. Wilson, and they traveled together frequently after that.

Industrial College for Girls Closed—Ministers Arrested.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 20.—The grand jury of Chesterfield county today indicted the Virgina Home and Industrial School for girls on the charge that it is a common nuisance.

At the same time an indictment was returned against Rev. George W. McDaniel, Rev. H. D. C. MacLachlin, leading ministers of Richmond; Samuel P. Waddill, clerk of Henrico Circuit Court, and Robert Lecky, Jr., as members of the executive committee under which the home is conducted.

It was stated by the committee tonight that at a meeting omorrow the institution will be closed and the 398 inmates returned to the custody of the court in various cities by which they were committed. Witnesses who appeared before the grand jury testified that the reformatory was a nuisance and a detriment to the community.

GIANTS WIN AGAIN.

Game Played During Snowfall—Six to Four.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 20.—The New York Giants defeated the Chicago White Sox today 6 to 4. Snow fell during the game.

Governor Edward Dunne pitched the first ball over the plate. The Sox got an early lead but were unable to retain it.

WANT BETTER COTTON.

An Appropriation to Further Production of Good Seed.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Representative Walker, of Georgia, today introduced a bill which would appropriate $10,000 for the use of the Department of Agriculture in experiments to improve the seed and cultivation of sea island cotton in Georgia, Florida and South Carolina. It was referred to the committee on agriculture.

CONVICT DIES IN DUEL.

Policeman Probably Fatally Wounded in Lynchburg, Va.

Lynchburg, Va., Oct. 20.—"Jack" Perrow, a young white desperado, who was out of the State penitentiary under parole, was shot and killed here yesterday morning in a duel with Policeman George Ware, of the city police force. Policeman Ware was shot in the abdomen, probably fatally.

Parrow died half an hour after being shot. The officer survived an operation and has a slight chance to recover.

Perrow went to prison two years ago for complicity in the "shooting up" of a yard engine here, in which Policeman George Crank was shot. Two months ago he was given a conditional pardon by Governor Mann.

This morning several policemen answered a call to Sandy Hook to apprehend a gang of car robbers. The officers separated and began the hunt. Ware stumbled upon Perrow suddenly, and when ordered to surrender Perrow opened fire upon the officer, who returned it. The policeman was wounded first, but his fire was more deadly, for each shot hit the mark, and Perrow fell, with his right arm smashed by a bullet, a wound in his right breast and a fatal one in his head.

Policeman Ware has been unfortunate, for he was shot by a negro two years ago. The wound he received yesterday penetrated the abdomen an inch from the old wound. Two months ago he was shot at five times by an escaping man, who is now serving a sentence for the shooting.

Perrow has a wife and two children and the injured policeman has four children.

"SEAMAN'S SERVITUDE BILL."

Senators Called Back to Washington to Cast Vote.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Absent Senators were notified tonight to return to Washington at once for the debate on the "seaman's servitude" bill which is to be voted on Thuresday.

Progress on the measure was delayed again today because of the absence of a quorum, all efforts of Senate employes failing to bring out enough members to enable the Senate to do business.

Senator LaFollette insisted that absent Senators should be recalled so that the Seaman's bill might be acted on. Its provisions increasing the safety of passengers and crew at sea ought to be put into operation, he said, to prevent further marine disasters such as have recently cost many lives. The Senator declared the measure which President Taft refused to sign, has the endorsement of the present administration.

PLEA OF NOT GUILTY.

Entered by Texas and New Orleans Men in Cotton Case.

New York, Oct. 20.—Eugene B. Scales, of Texas, and Frank B. Hayne and William P. Brown, of New Orleans, entered tentative pleas of not guilty today to the superceding indictment accusing them of having operated a corner in cotton in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

They were given ten days to demur or take other action and were released on $2,000 bail each. The defendants were originally indicted with James A. Patten, of Chicago, who pleaded guilty and was fined $4,000. The new indictment, which included Colonel Robert M. Thompson as a defendant, was drawn to conform to a decision of the United States Supreme Court in the matter.

GOES TO PANAMA.

Secretary Garrison Will Make Close Study of Situation.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Secretary Garrison, accompanied by Mrs. Garrison and Brig. Gen. Erasmus M. Weaver, chief of the coast artillery, will leave Washington tomorrow afternoon for New York to sail Wednesday for Colon.

The Secretary expects to spend a week inspecting the canal in conference with Col. Goethals and the other members of the canal commission regarding the legislation necessary for the operation of the great waterway after its completion.

The party will sail from Colon November 4th on their return to New York, where they are due November 10th.

REV. J. T. GILMER DEAD.

Well Known Presbyterian Minister Passes Near Greensboro, N. C.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 20.—Rev. John A. Gilmer, a well known Presbyterian minister and a native of Guilford county, died this morning at Pine Hall, N. C. The body was brought here on the evening train from Mount Airy and the funeral will be held here tomorrow. Interment will be at Alamance Presbyterian church. He is survived by two brothers, Dr. C. S. Gilmer and Robt. A. Gilmer, of this city. The late Sheriff J. Henry Gilmer, was also a brother. The deceased was ill only a short time.

BAKER ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Of Philadelphia National League Baseball Club.

Philadelphia, Oct., 20.—William F. Baker, former police commissioner of New York, was today elected president of the Philadelphia National League Baseball Club, succeeding the late William H. Locke.

The directors decided to retain Charles Dooin as manager of the team and a contract will be offered at the annual meeting of the club in January. Fred T. Chandler, of this city, was elected vice president and L. C. Ruch, of New York, was made a director.

WILL NOT CARRY PASSENGERS.

American Line Discontinues First-class Passages.

London, Oct. 20.—The decision of the American Line to discontinue the conveyance of first-class passengers on its vessels will become effective with the sailing of the St. Louis from Southampton on November 8th when the accommodations at present provided for first-class passengers will be given to those of the second-class.

Woman Picks Up a Snake.

Mrs. Drusilla Smith, an aged woman, living at Brownsville, had the experience of picking up a live snake in mistake for an apron string. She was so unnerved that she fell and was injured.

Observing what she thought was an apron string on the floor, she picked it up. The "string" had a cold and clammy feeling and she dropped the snake, which began to wriggle.

The sight of the live reptile nearly paralyzed Mrs. Smith with fright.—Philadelphia Record.

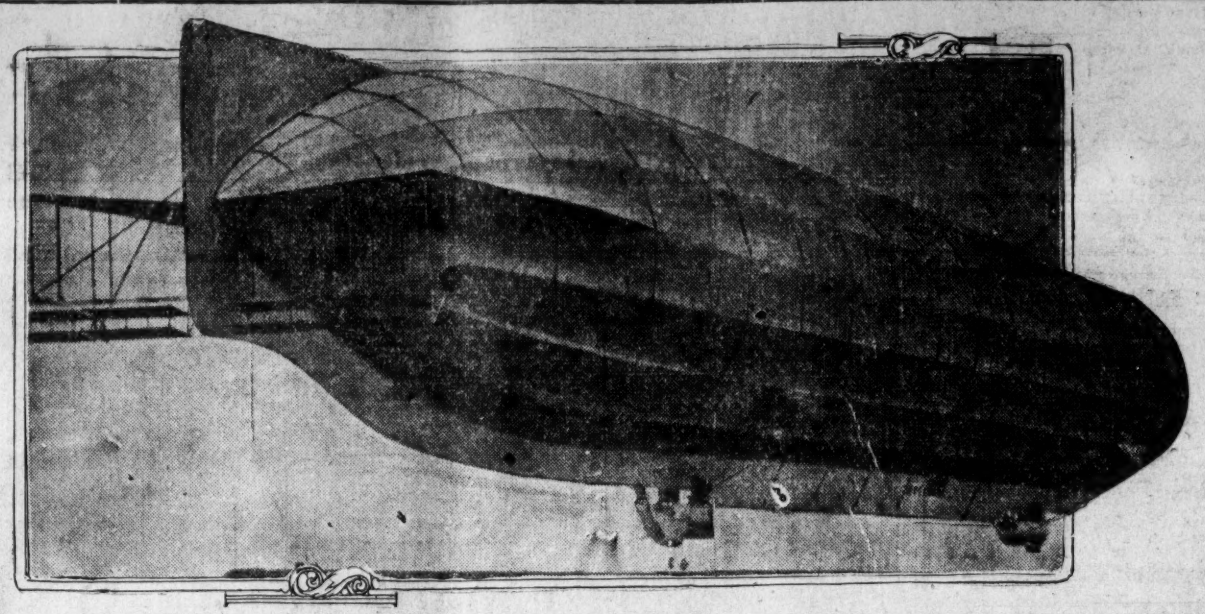
Type of Dirigible Used in Germany



It was one of these large air crafts which exploded nine hundred feet above the ground while carrying 27 passengers and crew, all of whom were killed. The machine fell to the earth a flaming mass from which it was impossible to extract the bodies of the dead and dying.

COLD WAVE STRIKES SOUTH.

Frost Reported in Several Southern States Yesterday.

Tennessee, North Carolina, Northern Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina yesterday experienced the earliest snowfall in the recollection of oldest citizens. After a week of comparatively warm weather the temperature began to drop Sunday and continued to fall during the early morning hours yesterday. As far south as Atlanta the snow began to fall shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday. The precipitation continued intermittently until after daylight at which time it has been noticed as far south as Birmingham, Ala., and Athens, Ga.

That the States mentioned above were generally blanketed by the snow clouds is indicated from the reports from different sections. In South Carolina the snow was noted at Greenville, Union and Laurens. In Alabama the precipitation was evident at Huntsville and Birmingham. Snow fell in several Georgia cities and towns including Atlanta, Augusta and Athens. Reports from Chattanooga and Nashville, Tenn., and Asheville, N. C., indicate that the snow flurry was heavier in that section than in the more Southern States.

In the Southwest snow was reported from a number of points in the Ozark Mountains of Southeastern Missouri and Northwest Arkansas. The town of Alma, in Crawford county, Arkansas, was the most Southern town in that State to report a flurry. Freezing temperatures prevailed generally over Missouri, Kansas and Northern Oklahoma with a light frost extending into Northern Texas.

New York, Oct. 20.—Apprehension of serious damage to the crop caused a big advance in the cotton market this morning. The opening was 27 to 38 points higher on an excited general buying movement, which carried December contracts up $4.50 per bale above the low level of last week. Heavy realizing temporarily checked the advance, but still higher prices were reported late in the day, with December cotton selling at 13.94, or $2.65 per bale above the final quotations of Saturday.

Closing prices were very steady at 41 to 58 points net higher.

New Orleans, Oct. 20.—The cold wave now sweeping the South put the price of cotton up more than $2 a bale on the cotton exchange today.

The opening was irregular, the trading months showing a gain of 34 to 48 points over Saturday's close. They soon went to a level 36 to 42 ponits up, before profit-taking by longs became heavy enough to cause a reaction. This wild rise brought out selling orders for both accounts and the market reacted 13 to 15 points. Prices then recovered again and on a steady demand went to 49 to 52 points over Saturday's close.

New York, Oct. 20.—There was a big advance in the coffee market today on rumors of cold weather in Brazil, and unfavorable private crop advices. Early offerings were comparatively light after the heavy liquidation of late last week, but selling became heavier as prices reached a level 35 to 39 points above the closing figures of Saturday and caused reactions of some 12 or 15 points in the late trading. The spot market was firm and half a cent higher in sympathy with the advance in futures.

McColl, S. C., Oct. 20.—Marlboro county farming land is high. W. B. and J. A. Fletcher purchased from Tom Easterling his farm, about four miles from McColl, at a price of $265 per acre. There are about 100 acres of land in this tract, with 48 acres in cultivation.

Cheap and Easily Made, But Ends a Cough Quickly

How to Make the Very Best Cough Remedy at Home. Fully Guaranteed.

This pint of cough syrup is easily made at home and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It relieves obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—quickly, and is splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, spasmodic croup and hoarseness.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features.

Pinex, as perhaps you know, is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this mixture, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup remedy. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful combination has never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WOODMEN TO MEET.

District Convention in Tarboro Thursday—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Tarboro, N. C., Oct. 20.—Delegates from eighteen Eastern North Carolina towns will attend the Fourth District meeting of the Woodmen of the World to be held here Thursday. More than two hundred representatives will be the guests of the local camp at this time and an interesting programme has been arranged, both for the business and social sessions. Mayor Paul Jones will welcome the Woodmen to the town. Of special interest will be the awarding of prizes to the camp that has made the best all-around record during the past year. Many prominent State officers will be present and take an active part in the convention.

Secretary Thos. B. Jacocks, of the Edgecombe Fair Association, has announced that representatives of the State agricultural department will act as judges in the agricultural, dairy and live stock exhibits at Edgecombe's first fair, to be held here Wednesday Thursday and Friday, November 5-7. Mesdames S. N. Harrell and F. G. Davis, and Miss Anna Sledge, of Tarboro, have been selected to act as judges of needlework. The premiums in the above departments amount to $1,500. Many entries have been made for the races, the aggregate prizes for which amount to $2,500.

George Howard, Jr., has been selected chief marshal for the fair, and is arranging for a big marshal's ball, to be given on the night of Friday, November 7th. More than one hundred couples have announced their intention of attending.

Nearly all the buildings have been completed for the fair, and work is being rushed on additional buildings, with the result that everything will be in readiness by the last of the coming week.

The Post Office Department formally notified Mr. Henry Johnson, of this place, today, that the site purchased by the government for the new $75,000 Federal building must be cleared of all buildings within 60 days, as the department intends to begin work on the new building by the first of the year.

DEMANDS INVESTIGATION.

Chas. F. Murphy Wants Grand Jury to Probe Charges.

New York, Oct. 20.—Charles F Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, demanded today a grand jury investigation of charges alleged to have been made by John Purroy Mitchell, fusionist candidate for mayor, to the effect that the Democratic organization leaders were colonizing voters for use on election day.

A letter from Mr. Murphy demanding such investigation was placed before the grand jury by Judge Malone, of the Court of General Sessions.

"I request that you immediately submit to the grand jury now sitting this matter," says the letter.

"Charges of this sort recur in each succeeding campaign, but heretofore they have been made anonymously, and it seems to me desirable that they should be investigated, that the truth may be known."

New York, Oct. 20.—Through counsel Hans Schmidt, self confessed murderer of Anna Aumuller, pleaded not guilty today to a charge of homicide and was sent back to the Tombs.

TO PALE, THIN PEOPLE.

Druggist J. Hicks Bunting Offers to Pay for Samose if it Does Not Make Thin People Fat.

Pale, thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment. They may eat enough, but their food is not properly digested and does them no good.

Samose, the remarkable flesh-forming food, should be used by all who are pale, weak and thin. It mingles with the food and aids assimilation, so that when taken for a short time, Nature will soon assert her normal powers, and the food that is eaten will give strength and good flesh.

The woman who longs for rosy cheeks and the plumpness of beauty should use Samose. The man who wants to be strong and well and gain health and good flesh, will find his desires accomplished by Samose.

Such remarkable results have followed the use of Samose that Druggist J. Hicks Bunting is willing to pay for the treatment if it does not give the desired results. He makes this offer generally and wants all who are thin, weak and out of health to get a box of Samose from him on these terms.

BIG STATE FAIR OPEN TODAY

Fifty-Third Annual Exhibition at Raleigh—Charters for Several Enterprises—Other News Notes of Interest.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 20.—The 53rd annual State fair will open tomorrow morning with an address by Governor Craig and the most thorough preparations and very considerable enlargement of the fair grounds and equipment, together with by odds the most numerous and important exhibits give every assurance that this will be far and away the greatest fair in the history of the North Carolina Agricultural Society, which has been holding these annual State fairs for more than a half century.

Never before has the State fair had as extensive and complete agricultural exhibits and exhibits of cattle, sheep and swine as are being installed for this fair. The State Department of Agriculture has made special provision for the experts of the department to be on hand with exhibits from the department and the experiment farms to "preach the gospel of advanced and intensive farming," to the thousands of people who attend the fair.

Eighteen acres have been added to the fair grounds, the addition of new concrete barns for the cattle, stock, sheep and swine at a cost of over $10,000, big improvements in the general arrangement of the fair and the entrances all foreshadow the best managed fair ever held here.

For the first time the fair will be open at nights, the greatest feature of the evenings being the presentation of "The Last Days of Pompeii," the most sensational fireworks demonstration extant. Each day at noon there will be a good roads conference and demonstration with road machinery that will be attended by great numbers of those interested in road building and maintenance.

On Wednesday night there will be in connection with the fair events the annual convention of the North Carolina Confederate Veterans presided over by Gen. Julian S. Carr.

The entries for the races give promise of really interesting racing events on the fair track each day and the fair has never provided as great a variety of free attractions, nor on so big a scale as are provided this time.

Governor Craig leaves tomorrow for Asheville to attend the Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association in annual session there this week. Governor Craig will be one of a number of Southern Governors to be among the speakers for this convention.

Charters were issued today for the Clinton Oil & Manufacturing Co., of Clinton, Sampson county, with $50,000 capital authorized and $12,000 subscribed by Giles A. Chute and others for cotton ginning, cotton oil mills and fertilizer plant, also the Piedmont Furniture Co., of Lexington, with $10,000 capital authorized and $4,000 subscribed by J. T. Lowe and others for general furniture manufacturing business.

Two of the first agricultural exhibits for the State fair and probably of the finest, as well, to be gotten in place are by D. R. Nowland and B. F. Howell, of Haywood county, these being special farm exhibits. There are big prizes for county exhibits and individual farm exhibits as well. And those who have seen the Howell and the Noland exhibits pronounced them both worthy of the highest prize winning class.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State superintendent of public instruction, has gone to Ann Arbor, Mich., where he will attend this week a meeting of the trustees of the National Educational Association. Dr. Joyner is an ex-president of the association as well as a trustee.

The Corporation Commission has ordered the Seaboard Air Line to operate special shuttle passenger trains between the union station here and the State fair grounds on Wednesday and Thursday to relieve the congestion of travel between the city and the fair grounds that always swamps the street car service.

Wednesday evening there will be held the annual meeting of the North Carolina Division United Confederate Veterans, Gen. Julian S. Carr president; and the North Carolina Veterans' Association, Major W. A. Graham, president, and J. C. Birdsong, secretary. The reason for the meeting of the North Carolina Division, Gen. Carr, president, is that there was no encampment this year and officers must be elected at this time.

PLUCKY ROWAN DEPUTY.

Forced Bad Negro Back Into Cell at Salisbury Sunday.

Salisbury, N. C., Oct. 20—There was a jail delivery in Salisbury last night, when young Deputy Sheriff James H. McKenzie, Jr., had a desperate encounter in the corridor of the Rowan jail with Jim Perkins, a stalwart negro, who attacked the officer when he opened the door to lock up a prisoner. While the officer grappled with the negro, several efforts were made to wrench the gun from the officer's hand. The encounter lasted several minutes and the two men fought desperately from one end of the corridor to the other.

While the fight was in progress, Shelly Hunt, held for selling cocaine, came out of the cell door, being called by Perkins and made a bold dash for liberty. Perkins was overpowered by Deputy McKenzie and driven back in his cell. Hunt was fired upon as he left the lot but escaped.

Sheriff McKenzie was absent at the time of the trouble, searching for a white man wanted for a crime in Davie county, but was soon on the scene. He offers a reward of $25 for the capture of Hunt, who is 25 years old.

In the fight with Perkins Deputy McKenzie lost a portion of a finger and was somewhat used up. He is being heartily commended for his good work and bravery in successfully combating with a powerfully built negro whom he landed in the cell.

FIRE AT FAYETTEVILLE.

Residence Belonging to Mr. N. H. Smith Destroyed Yesterday.

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 20.—The Observer this afternoon says:

"About noon today fire broke out on the roof of the fine dwelling just west of the city, known as the Henry Pemberton place. Owing to the high winds and the distance from any fire plugs, it was impossible to save it, and it was soon burned to the ground.

"The dwelling was owned by Mr. Newton H. Smith, and was occupied by Mr. C. C. Pinkston. Mr. Pinkston lost a good part of his furniture, but people passing on the way to town assisted him in saving some. We have not learned if he had any insurance. Mr. Smith had partial insurance on the house."

Washington, Oct. 20.—President Wilson today nominated J. B. Greene, of North Carolina, to be assistant surgeon in the Medical Reserve Corps.

DOINGS IN GREENSBORO

Back from Murder Trial in West Virginia—Auto Owners Fined—Public Meeting in Interest of Baseball—Deaths.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 20.—Deputy Sheriff J. H. Shaw has returned from Summersville, West Virginia, together with two other North Carolinians, who went to that place to be witnesses in the case against Tollie McClung, a former Greensboro boy who is charged with being one of the murderers of his uncle. His father and brother are co-defendants.

The case was continued and will be tried in January. McClung was a teacher in the Greensboro Commercial School and favorably known here. Two brothers own the school. While on his vacation in West Virginia in July the uncle was killed, and McClung was arrested here the day he returned and carried back to West Virginia to stand trial. Mr. Shaw says there are many lawyers on both sides and the case will be hotly contested.

Several automobile owners and drivers were in municipal court this morning for violation of the new traffic ordinance which forbids an automobile passing a street car that is taking on or discharging passengers. Most of the violations occurred during fair week. Judge Brown fined each violator ten dollars and costs. Mr. J. W. Jones, wholesale merchant, who said he saw no street car when he is alleged to have passed it and was corroborated by another witness, appealed from the court's judgment. Mr. Jones was contradicted by a motorman and policeman who took the number of his car, which was admitted to be correct.

The case against Fred Stanfield, charged with the murder of Will Hatchett, both negroes, was continued until tomorrow. Judge Bynum represents the defendant. The killing occurred early Sunday morning in a negro suburb. The defendant says that he shot the deceased in self-defense and will be corroborated by other witnesses. It is said that Hatchett shot twice at Stanfield before the latter fired. Stanfield was shot in the left arm.

A public meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce tonight in the interest of the baseball club of Greensboro, which is badly in debt. It is believed that as a result of the meeting money will be raised to take care of the deficit and assure Greensboro a place in the North Carolina League next year.

Mr. W. C. Pearce, associate general secretary of the International Sunday School Association, spoke in West Market Street Methodist church last night. His subject was "Elements That Make a Nation Great." Mr. Pearce is here to organize a State-wide campaign for better organization of the Sunday School work of North Carolina. He and members of the State executive committee met in State headquarters during his visit and planned the work. State Secretary J. W. Long and a corps of workers from the National headquarters will come to the State in February and visit the leading cities and towns of the State for the purpose of organizing city associations.

Miss Sadie Hilton died this morning at 1 o'clock at her home at White Oak, following a lingering illness. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 3 o'clock at Center church, followed by interment in the burying ground. Rev. G. F. Milloway will conduct the service. She was 19 years of age and is survived by her parents and several brothers and sisters, all living here.

Mrs. D. A. White, of Spring Garden street, died yesterday at 10 o'clock at her home after a week's illness. She was 46 years of age and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. York, of this city. The funeral was held today, conducted by Rev. C. E. M. Raper. The husband and the following children survive: Mrs. Lena Holbrook, of Portsmouth, Va.; Mrs. Myrtle Edwards, Mrs. Maud Oakley, Bessie and Paul White, of this city.

Rainey Malcolm, the one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Malcolm, died yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock of bronchial trouble. The funeral was held this afternoon at the home conducted by Rev. Mr. Powell. Interment was in Greene Hill cemetery.

FAYETTTVILLE CAR LINE.

Chicago Capitalists Have Their Eyes on Traction Company.

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 20.—The Observer this afternoon says: "Mr. Ernest Poindexter, special attorney for large interests in the West, is here from Chicago, looking into the feasibility of the prospective purchase of the Fayetteville Traction and Power Company. The attorney says that if his company takes over the properties it is their intention to make extensive improvements and extend the lines to the mill district and cross the city north and south. A line will be run to Cape Fear river with facilities for handling the freight from the boat lines on the river.

"One of the most interesting features of the enterprise will be the opening of an attractive park somewhere on the line."

Kankakee, Ill., Oct. 20.—A. J. Kramer, 21 years old, died today from injuries received in a football game yesterday.

IS IT YOUR KIDNEYS?

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles—A Wilmington Citizen Gives Valuable Hint.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is where danger often lies. You should realize that these troubles often lead to dropsy or Bright's disease. An effective remedy for weak or disabled kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the experience of a resident of Wilmington, who has tested Doan's.

Miss Mattie Hodges, 609 E. Fifth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as strongly today as I did some years ago when I publicly told of my experience with them. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured from Bellamy's drug store and they gave me more relief from kidney trouble than any other medicine I had ever taken. I have since been well and my kidneys and back have not troubled me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

FIRE AT WILSON, N. C.

Barn and Outhouses Destroyed—Sudden Death—Pursuing Negro.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Oct. 20.—Fire destroyed the barn and all outhouses at the home of Mr. Ruffin Watson about noon today. On account of the high wind the fire department had a stubborn fight to save the residence and adjacent property. It is not known how the fire originated. The horses were gotten from the burning barn but the feedstuff and more than 800 pounds of cured meats was destroyed. The total loss is in the neighborhood of $2,000.

Micheal L. Hoffman, who recently came to Wilson from New York City and was employed by a local tailoring establishment, dropped dead Sunday afternoon at his boarding house. Mr. Hoffman was about 45 years old and has a wife and children in New York. They were to have come here as soon as a house could be secured. Physicians give the cause of death as apoplexy. Mr. Hoffman was reading the newspaper and rose from his chair to cross room when he fell dead. His family was notified by telegraph and the remains were shipped to New York City today.

County officials are still searching for Tom Debren, the negro who killed Mr. Ross Flowers Saturday. Immediately after the shooting Debren went to the negro church in the community and called his wife out of the building and told her that he was going away. He left his gun at the church and went to the home of another negro, Henry Williams, secured a gun and left his shoes. Later a report of a gun was heard in the nearby woods and John Jones made an investigation. He found Debren on the ground but uninjured. Debren told Jones that he had killed Mr. Flowers and was intending to kill himself. Jones did not know of the shooting of Mr. Flowers but thought Debren was crazy. He took the gun away from him and Debren disappeared again. He is coatless and barefooted and is somewhere in the swamp. Several posses are searching for him.

TWO NEGROES KILLED.

One Shot to Death Back of Fayetteville Restaurant—Another.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 20.—Richard, or Richmond, McAllister, an old negro man, was shot and almost instantly killed by an unknown negro last night, in the rear of Sidney McQueen's cafe on Winslow street, after the slayer had jostled the old man, had begged and received his pardon, according to a story told by McAllister's companion, John McNeill.

McNeill, a strange negro, who here recently from Laurinburg, says that he and McAllister were sitting in a door behind the cafe when a negro they did not know, came by an ran into the older man. "Don't run over me," said McAllister, and the newcomer begged his pardon, which was granted. A few minutes later, according to McNeill, a shot rang out and the old man fell across the door and was dead in scarcely more than a minute.

The mysterious murderer had not been apprehended. A coroner's inquest this morning resulted in a finding that the deceased came by his death from a wound caused by a pistol ball fired from a pistol by a person unknown to the jurors.

When Alex. McMillan, a 12-year-old negro boy, of Parkton, in Robeson county, heard a noise in the kitchen of his home while he was alone in the house Saturday night, he fired a shotgun into the darkness in the direction of the sound. When his parents returned he told them that he had "killed a dog or somebody." On investigation the found Jack McLeod, a negro of the neighborhood, dead, shot through the mouth. It is said McLeod had been drinking, and a bottle of whiskey was found in his pocket. The McMillan boy was taken to Lumberton by the sheriff of Robeson.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The revenue cutter Seminole reported to the Treasury Department today that efforts to float the schooner Greenleaf Johnson, stranded on Shallotte inlet bar on the North Carolina coast, had been unsuccessful so far.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate and like matter will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders, and postal money orders, for the paper should be made payable, and all communications should be addressed to THE WILMINGTON STAR CO.

President Wilson's latest note to Dictator Huerta is not subject to discount.

The Senator with the plausibility often manages to get ranked with those of ability.

Wanted—A prince or a count who can fall in love with an American girl who has more beauty than money.

It is no sign that a man is honest because he won't even take advice or take anything of the nature of a joke.

For a country with all sorts of a "crisis," Mexico seems to beat all other countries. Probably what looks like a crisis down there is something else.

Says the Jacksonville Times-Union: "About the easiest thing in the world is to find fault." Generally those who are quickest to find fault manage to hide theirs till somebody makes a discovery.

That Greensboro judge who has been dishing out fines of $10 and costs to violators of the traffic ordinances in the Gate City evidently means to put a stop to the abuses complained of.

It is said that Governor Sulzer may take the platform in vindication of himself. He may make money by doing so, but he has before him a lifetime task to vindicate himself in the eyes of the nation.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon says he will become a Democrat if the Democrats show that they can successfully conduct the affairs of the country. So long as he is the judge himself, he can easily persuade himself that the country isn't safe.

When shall we hear the last of ex-Governor Glenn and that job he seems to be slated for in Washington? The Washington correspondents seem to have been working overtime on "unconfirmed but authoritative" announcements that come from those "high up in authority."

Politics in South Carolina will "start up" at the State fair to be held in Columbia, says a South Carolina paper. When they get in "full swing" the opinions which the politicians will express about each other would indicate that some of the inhabitants of the State are less desirable than a lot of Jap settlers.

A New York judge has accused Colonel Roosevelt of straying from the path of veracity, but as the Colonel has gone to South America the judge is safe till he can come back. Since the Colonel's departure, however, certain syndicate articles of his are now appearing in certain newspapers. Sunday's New York Tribune carried one of his articles under the caption, "Roosevelt's Tale of the Taming of the Platt Machine." Of course, the story is about "How I Did It." It remains to be seen whether some of those alluded to will dispute what the Colonel says.

President Huerta, of Mexico, didn't want any Congress, so he put the Congressmen in jail, and made himself law-giver and dictator. President Menacol, of Cuba, couldn't get his Congress to meet in extra session to pass a revenue act. President Wilson, of Uncle Sam, needs Congress and is doing his best to keep it in session as it is the only law-making body for a republic of 100,000,000 population. This is a strictly constitutional government and the American President knows he is powerless unless the representatives of the people and the States will co-operate with him.

Those who are interested in the industrial development of Wilmington found a lot to think about after reading the article in Sunday's Star, under the caption of "What Ailed Old Kentucky." Those who did not read it should hark back to the Sunday paper and get posted on one of the reasons why many communities in the South are making little or no progress. The article referred to will do to keep so it can be read early and often by those who have wondered why outsiders do not rush to communities which are rich in resources but which do not appeal to investors.

NEW BOOSTER ORGANIZATION.

Wilmington is to be congratulated upon the permanent organization of the Wilmington Commercial Club, which held a meeting last night and completed its organization under the charter received last week. It starts off with more than 100 members, and it should be increased to a thousand, because it is necessarily a people's institution to which all can belong. We congratulate our city upon its organization because it will give the city two live bodies, each working along its own line and co-operating on general lines.

Wilmington is sure to commend the line upon which the new organization is to be conducted, as partially outlined in the local columns of last Sunday's Star. It is to be neither the rival nor the antagonist of the Chamber of Commerce, which, it is recognized, fulfills a function that differs from that of the new organization and which possesses a potentiality and influence peculiar to such a business institution as the Chamber. The Commercial Club will not be a business organization but an organization composed of business men banded together in the general work of promoting the city's industrial and commercial progress and the general welfare of the city. It's main object will be the development of Wilmington along all lines, and certainly it can be made a powerful factor in the up-building of Wilmington in accordance with the spirit manifested at last night's meeting.

The Chamber of Commerce primarily is an organization devoted to promoting the commercial and business interests of the city and incidentally extending its powerful influence to all movements in behalf of progress. Differing in functions but co-operating in one purpose—building up of Wilmington—both organizations ought to do some telling work for Wilmington within the next year.

There is plenty of work for both bodies to do, and everybody in Wilmington ought to help them to do it. The membership of the Chamber of Commerce can embrace one element of the business life, while the Commercial Club can take in all in a common cause, viz: working exclusively for the making of a Greater Wilmington.

THE GOVERNOR'S GOOD ROADS TOCSIN.

Governor Craig sounded a State-wide tocsin when he issued his good roads proclamation summoning all North Carolinians to action on Good Roads Days, November 5th and 6th. Those are the days he named in a real cause and he has called upon the men of the State to turn out and work the roads or do something equally as good in behalf of modern highways throughout North Carolina. Governor Craig is going to respond to his own call and certainly every man can follow his example and get right in after his lead.

The North Carolina Governor's proclamation has aroused the good roads spirit everywhere in the State, and it is not only a hopeful but inspiring sign that the State's Great educational institution, the University, has made itself responsive to the Governor's call. Active President W. K. Graham, of the University, writes Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist, under date of Chapel Hill, October 17th, that in response to the Good Roads proclamation, the University has arranged a fine programme for good roads days. The programme really will begin November 4th with a lecture in the chapel on "The Signifcance of Good Roads Days," by Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist. On the 5th, Prof. M. H. Stacy will speak on "Road Work in North Carolina," and on the night of the 5th, a government expert will deliver an illustrated lecture on practical road building.

That is not all, however, for the University does not propose to let that part of the programme interfere with practical work for good roads. Profs. Stacy and Hickerson, of the Department of Civil Engineering, will give their services and the services of five competent men from the higher classes in road engineering, to take charge of groups of workers in Orange county under the State Geologist's plan of organization. Workers from the student body are also promised in large numbers, and the county clubs will distribute literature and write articles for the home papers with a view to emphasizing the good roads cause and arousing practical interest in good reads days.

That is constructive initiative on the part of the University, and no doubt the other State colleges will vie with the University in the forward step it has taken not only to emphasize but to dignify North Carolina's highway crusade.

OPENS THE ORE FIELDS TO OUR PORTS.

The Manufacturers' Record contained a valuable editorial in its issue of Wednesday, concerning the availability of foreign ores for Southern iron and steel development The practically exhaustless lodes of ores in the Latin countries to the south of our South Atlantic ports, make the import and utilization of these ores an attractive proposition for such ports as Wilmington. Says the Manufacturers' Record:

"The Bethlehem Steel Co., for instance, has secured a great supply of ore on the coast of Chili, and proposes to build 10 steamers to bring this ore through the Panama Canal to Philadelphia and thence ship to Betnlehem. The Pennsylvania Steel Co., which draws its ore supply almost wholly from Cuba for its plant at Steelton and at Sparrows Point, near Baltimore, the latter operated as the Maryland Steel Co., owns in Cuba an amount of ore estimated to exceed 600,000,000 tons. The Bethlehem Company owns probably equally as much in Cuba, and the Steel Corporation a considerable quantity. Discoveries of great importance have within the last year or two been made in Brazil at points from which the ore can be shipped to advantage to this country. Most of this ore is found in countries which are without a coking-coal supply. The ore will, therefore, seek the coking coal, and that means that it will be brought to the United States for smelting. The nearest point for these vast supplies of ore will be South Atlantic and Gulf ports, but nearness will not necessarily result in these ores being used at Southern ports.

"If this tidewater steel industry should become centered at Northern ports, and already a plan is under way to build a big furnace near New York to use foreign ores, it would be difficult to turn the tide of development of this industry to the South. Now that the world's attenion has been attracted to the supply of ores that can be brought from Cuba and South America, the South should make the most of the situation and so handle the matter that its dominance in the coking-coal supply shall be made to bring about a dominance in iron and steel making."

Our esteemed Baltimore contemporary goes more at length into this matter and it throws out a strong and valuable hint to our South Atlantic ports. They can consider this question to good advantage, and they had better act quickly, because more northern points will soon see their opportunity in what the Manufacturers' Record points out is a fine one for our Southern ports.

WHERE ALL THE PEOPLE WENT.

Texas and other new Western States have gained wonderfully in population and made tremendous progress at the expense of the older States. The new has absorbed from the old, and the immense State of Texas is a good illustration of how it was done. For instance, the Houston Chronicle tells us that in 1870, Texas had a population of 815,000, whereas its population today is 4,000,000. Forty years in the life of a State is a brief span of time, but in those 40 years Texas and other new States have drained population at a terrific rate for North Carolina and other eastern States. The drain on the population of the older States can be appreciated when it is stated that as fine a State as Kentucky has contributed 600,000 of her population to the go-West movement.

In 1870, the entire taxable values in Texas were slightly in excess of $170,000,000. Now they closely approximate $3,000,000,000. In 1870 Texas had only 711 miles of railroad, while today her railroad mileage is 14,000—the greatest mileage of any State in the Union. That tells a marvelous tale, and yet Texas is only a part of the West that has drawn on the resources of the East.

Literally millions of people and capital have gone from the East to the West, but the tide has slacked under the tremendous developmest that is taking place in the States which formerly produced population and capital for the development of the West. It is curious that while hundreds of thousands of North Carolinians emigrated to so-called new countries there are thousands of acres of rich virgin lands in five miles of Wilmington. There is little wonder that up to a few years ago North Carolina could barely hold her own while Texas was becoming an empire.

Boll rot is said to be prevalent in every cotton field in Georgia. The boll rot is the most telling argument in avor of rotation in crops. Cotton should not succeed cotton in which there was evidence of the presence of boll rot.—Augusta Chronicle.

"Man as a lover approaches the threshold with his hat in his hand and gently rings the bell. As a husband he may rush in and slam the door unless the law is laid down to him at the very start."—Wilmington Star. But even then he is not as big a nuisance as the fool who rushes into an office and leaves the door open on a cold day.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Wilmington seems about to be closing a deal with the Morse steamship people for a line of two boats between its port and Baltimore and for one steamship between Wilmington and New York. The hope can be indulged that the negotiations will be successful. The Observer has abounding faith that the port of Wilmington would give the proposed line sufficient business to make it a paying investment.—Charlotte Observer.

LOOKING FORWARD.

Something over four million acres of North Carolina land is practically worthless because of the lack of drainage. This land, if properly drained, would be as fertile as the Valley of the Nile. At the present time it can be bought for a nominal sum.

During the past four years more than one hundred thousand acres has been drained and is worth today, at least, an average of $50 an acre. Work is starting at this time in the Mattamuskeet Lake Drainage District. This work, when completed, will make 100,000 acres of the richest farming land ready for the plough. Similar work can be done in many sections of the State at a nominal cost per acre and millions of acres of fertile soil made ready for the production of cotton, corn, tobacco, fruits asd vegetables.

This opportunity of the State is magnificent and it behooves North Carolina to become interested in bringing to pass a bigger and better State.

AT OXFORD COLLEGE.

Now in Midst of Prosperous Session. Receptions, Etc.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Oxford, N. C., Oct. 20.—Oxford College is now in the midst of a prosperous session. It is generally conceded that the student body is composed of unusually fine material. The work is progressing satisfactorily. All are earnestly doing their part.

Two new teachers are with us this year. The teacher of Science is a Bachelor of Science of Cornell University.

The Director of Music is a graduate of the New England Conservatory with special training in Boston and New York, and in addition to this has traveled and studied two years in Europe. The manager of the college goes to the highest source for his teachers.

There have been several things coming in to break the monotony of school life. The first was a reception given on the lawn by the Y. W. C. A. to the new students. The beams of the full moon were enhanced by the soft rays of Chinese lanterns hung here and there in the grove. Interesting games were played and light refreshments served. The object of this entertainment was to introduce the new students to the old, and before the evening was over the former were feeling very much at home.

The Granville county fair has just closed. Exercises of the college were suspended on Wednesday in order that the students might have an opportunity to attend. This fair has come to be a county institution. This year the attendance was larger than ever. The boarding students from this and the adjoining county, met their relatives and acquaintances.

The senior class left today for Wake Forest College, to be present by invitation, at the banquet of the Baraca class of the college. Fourteen happy girls left us. They will have an opportunity also tomorrow of witnessing the football game between the Wake Forest team and Richmond College team.

Last year the Seniors were invited to a similar banquet. This may become an annual custom.

In the near future we are expecting a visit from the celebrated pianist, Madam Blye, on her annual tour of the South. Last year she appeared before our students and delighted all by her artistic performance, and she is not less delightful socially.

TAR HEELS IN NEW YORK.

Some of Those Who Visited Gotham—North Carolina Society.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, Oct. 20.—Officers of the North Carolina Society in this city will hold a meeting within a few days to decide upon the programme for the society's activities through the Winter. The society is formed with the purpose not only of furnishing opportunities for the mingling of men from the Old North State here but for entertainment as well, and the officers are expected to provide a series of first-class attractions.

The numbers of North Carolina merchants here in the last several months renewing their stocks of merchandise are giving way to visitors coming to enjoy the sights and Winter attractions of the city. The New York Theatre is now in the midst of a Shakespearean revival and this, with the approach of the Grand Opera season, will draw many lovers of the best in drama and music.

THE ASHEVILLE CURE.

Government Experts Suddenly Return to Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Two government surgeons who have been in Asheville, N. C., investigating the vaccine of Dr. Karl von Rucke for the prevention of tuberculosis, have suddenly stopped their work and have returned to Washington. They will file their reports as soon as they can be prepared.

These experts are Passed Assistant Surgeon G. B. Crow, of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery of the Navy, and Passed Assistant Surgeon A. M. Stimson, of the Public Health Service. The sudden departure followed the visit of Passed Assistant Surgeon John F. Anderson, of the hygienic laboratory, to Asheville.

Dr. Stimson immediately began the preparation of a report for Suregon General Rupert Blue, of the Public Health Service. Dr. Crow has not been in good health for several months and now is at the Naval Medical Hospital. He will begin his report as soon as he is able.

About the time that Dr. Friedmann came to America with his vaccine, there came a report that Dr. von Rucke, in Asheville, had a remedy for tuberculosis. Surgeon General C. F. Stokes, of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, sent Medical Inspector Edward R. Stitt to investigate.

Soon after the Senate adopted a resolution instruction the Public Health Service to make a report on the value of the von Rucke vaccine.

Berlin, Oct. 19.—Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann, with Prof. Carl Ludwig Schleich, a physician of high standing, is quietly practicing with his turtle serum for tuberculosis in his little clinic here.

Dr. Friedmann said today that he will return to the United States and take Dr. Schleich with him in the near future. He says he is anxious to see his American patients, the reports from whom have been very pleasing.

Dr. Friedmann says that 4,000 patients in Germany and abroad have been treated with his vaccine and the results have been such that he is convinced that the world will in time recognize the value of his discovery.

WINTRY WEATHER THIS WEEK.

General Frosts for East and Interior of the South.

Washington, October 20.—Wintry weather is predicted for the next few days in the greater part of the country east of the Rocky Mountains.

"It is probable," said the weekly bulletin tonight, "that general frosts will occur the first half of the week in the great Central Valleys, the Eastern States and the interior of the South. Normal temperatures will prevail during the week on the Pacific Slope. There will be rains Monday in the Eastern States, the Upper Ohio Valley and the region of the Great Lakes; otherwise the weather during the next several days will be generally fair east of the Rocky Mountains.

"The next disturbance of importance to cross the country will appear in the Northwest Tuesday or Wednesday, move eastward and cross the Great Central Valleys Thursday or Friday and the Eastern States near the end of the week. This disturbance will be preceded by a general change to higher temperature, be attended by rains in the North Pacific States and the Southern and Middle States east of the Rocky Mountains and rains and snows along the Northern border. It will be followed by colder weather which will appear in the Northwest about Thursday.

"There are no indications of a disturbance in the West Indies."

CRAPS AND KILLING.

Lumber Camp Near Tarboro the Scene —New Store Located.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Tarboro, Oct. 20.—As the result of a gambling row at Hick's lumber camp, six miles from Tarboro, Sunday afternoon, Roy Silver, colored, is dead, and Cofield May, colored, is at large. A crowd of negroes employed at the camp engaged in a game of craps. The game ended with May killing Silver, in which a small chisel played a prominent part. The chisel was driven into brains of Silver and he died four hours later. Sheriff Hyatt is scouring the country for the murderer.

McCreary, the five and ten cent store man, has located in the building formerly occupied by the Arnhoim department store, and as soon as the remodeling is completed will open a ten cent store here.

AGED LADY RELEASED.

Pleads Guilty to Theft and Given Her Freedom.

New York, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Randolph Fitzhugh, a member of a prominent Virginia, family was set free on a suspended sentence today after having pleaded guilty to the theft of a gold mesh bag and a gold bracelet. It was said that relatives would take her to Washington.

SUPERIOR COURT BEGINS

The October term of Superior Court for the trial of civil causes convened yesterday morning with Judge Rountree, of this city, presiding. Only a few cases of minor importance were taken up yesterday and the jury was excused for the day early in the afternoon. At the request of Judge Rountree nearly all the members of the bar were in the court room half hour before court convened to consider some proposed changes in the calendar arranged by the bar. Only a few changes were made.

In the case of the Fredericks Disinfectant Company against John J. Furlong and Dr. Chas. T. Harper, trading and doing business as Furlong & Co., the defendants through their attorney, L. Clayton Grant, Esq., pleaded statute of limitation and on this ground the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendants. The amount involved was $90 alleged to have been due since 1909. W. P. Stacy, Esq., appeared for the plaintiff company.

Judgment of the magistrate's court was affirmed in a case of the Camp Mfg. Co., against Sol. Sternberger and J. Irving Bear. The amount sued for in the magistrate's court was $118.53 and the magistrate awarded the plaintiff $102.35, which award was sustained by the higher court.

The following cases were continued until the next term: W. H. Alderman against the City of Wilmington; A. D. Hewlett against the City of Wilmington; W. G. Baldwin, et al., against J. A. Rowe; Sing Lee against Emma Lee; Ed. Gause against Annie Sadgwar, adm., et al.

Judgment non-suit was entered in the following cases: C. F. Southard against J. W. Mintz, et al.; D. D. Boylan against H. H. Merritt.

Among the visiting attorneys here yesterday were: Jackson Greer, Irvin B. Tucker, Donald MacRackan, David J. Lewis and P. T. Freezer, all of Whiteville. They were here to appear in some matters at chambers before Judge Rountree.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

War Against Vagrancy Being Made by Police—Light Docket.

The Recorder had a light docket yesterday for a Monday morning, most of the cases being for vagrancy. The police are making special efforts to rid the city of vagrants, and have arrested a large number on this charge within the last few days. Sarah Howard, colored, got 30 days on the county farm yesterday on this charge. A nol pros with leave was taken in cases against Fleet Coe and Ting Backus, both colored, also charged with vagrancy.

Gus Williams, colored, was charged with vagrancy, but he said he had a job picking chickens that are sold in the market. He also said he was sick, and judgment was left open until this morning in order that he might be examined by a physician. Judgment was suspended in a case against Annie Askins, colored, charged with vagrancy, on account of the fact that she has a young child to support.

John Brown, colored, was charged by his wife with having shot at her with a pistol Saturday night. The charge was adjudged frivolous and malicious, and she was taxed with the costs. Luther Newkirk and Willie B. Newkirk, both colored, charged with shooting a pistol in the city limits, will have a hearing today. Charlie Cobb, white, charged with engaging in an affray with Frank Piner some time ago, will be tried this morning.

FUNERAL OF MR. MORRIS.

Services Sunday Afternoon From Residence—Interment in Bellevue.

Attended by a large concourse of friends and relatives the funeral of Mr. A. H. Morris, one of Wilmington's oldest citizens, whose death occurred Saturday morning, was held Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence, No. 815 Chesnut street, conducted by Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, assisted by Rev. C. T. Rogers, pastor of Trinity Methodist church. Following the services at the home the remains were tenderly borne to Bellevue cemetery where the interment was made. The grave was covered with the large number of floral designs. The pallbearers were: Honorary, Messrs. G. M. Whitfield, L. L. Boone, D. N. Page, and E. T. Wade; active, Messrs. Van Woodcock, W. N. Smithson, S. J. Ellis, W. N. Scarborough, J. W. Smith and W. W. Thigpen.

Serious Accident Narrowly Averted.

The presence of mind shown by Will Sheppard, a colored chauffeur, probably saved the life of Oscar Jessup, a young white boy, who while riding a bicycle around the corner at Second and Market streets, collided with the machine which was being driven by Sheppard, and was dragged under the machine yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The boy was uninjured beyond a few bruises. The car was owned by Mr. C. L. Dickinson, and Mrs. Dickinson was in the car. She took the boy to a physician but fortunately his services were not required. The car was going west on Market street when Sheppard saw the boy coming directly towards him, and turned sharply to the right, putting on the brakes in the meantime. He ran the machine up on the sidewalk, lifting it so that the boy was not hurt nor was the wheel badly damaged.

New Hotel Opens November 1st.

The work of remodeling the former Y. M. C. A. building, at corner of Front and Grace streets, is now nearly complete, and will be ready November 1st for the use of the Clarendon Hotel Company, Manager J. A. Rowe stated yesterday afternoon. It will be known as the Hotel Clarendon, and will cater to the commercial trade. It will be run on both the European and American plans. There are 40 rooms, all with outside exposures, and ideally suited to the needs of its patrons. They have been fitted up with the most modern conveniences and with new furniture. Wilmington has an increasing number of transient visitors, and the new hotel will be of great service in helping to take care of them.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Wilmington Beach Corporation to D. N. Chadwick, Jr., for $10 and other considerations, lot 3, block 10, Wilmington Beach; L. W. Moore and wife to James E. Willson, Jr., for $100 and other considerations, lot on east side of Brooklyn street, 123 feet north of Taylor, 33x75 feet in size; The New Hanover Transit Company to C. S. Royall, of Salemburg, for $100 and other considerations, lot 1, block 10, Carolina Beach.

GOV'T. REJECTED ALL BIDS

Proposals for Dredging River Channel and Ocean Bar Were Excessive and Will be Done by the Department.

All the bids for completing the dredging of the Cape Fear river below Wilmington and for dredging the ocean bar under the project for securing a greater width and a mean depth of 26 feet which were submitted to the War Department several weeks ago have been rejected, and the work will be done by the government, Major H. W. Stickle, United States District Engineer, stated yesterday afternoon.

A small government sea-going dredging vessel will be secured within a short time, and will begin work on the ocean bar at once. The Atlantic, one of the largest sea-going dredges owned by the government, now located at Boston, Mass., will be sent here in January to aid in completing the dredging on the ocean bar. It is likely that a dredge will be built by the government to finish the work on the river on the present project.

The bids submitted were for the removal of 1,040,000 cubic yards of material from the river channel and for dredging 450,000 cubic yards of material from the ocean bar. Four concerns submitted proposals for doing the work on the river channel, the lowest being that of the Maryland dredging Company, of Baltimore, Md., for $134,160, and the highest being that of the Home Dredging Company, of Mobile, Ala., at $192,400. The bid of P. Sanford Ross, of Jersey City, N. J., was $149,760, and that of the Southern Dredging Company of Mobile, Ala., was $186,160.

Only two bids were made for the work on the bar, these being that of the Maryland Dredging Company, of Baltmore, who bid $81,000, and the Coastwise Dredging Company, who bid $80,550. All bids were rejected on the ground that they were excessive, being from twice to three times the estimated cost of the work.

Four dredges are now at work on the river dredging under existing contracts. The completion of the work is not urgent, however, and the government will have its own dredges at work in time to complete the work without causing any inconvenience. The main feature of the present work is not so much deepening the river channel as it is widening the present channel.

BRIGADE LYCEUM COURSES.

First Number to be Given November 7th—Lecture Monday Night.

There have been many inquiries to know if the lecture to be given at the Boys' Brigade armory next Monday night by Senator Robert M. LaFollette is one of the regular Lyceum Course numbers. In order that there may be no mistake regarding this matter The Star is requested to state that this is not one of the regular numbers of this course but is a separate number, secured especially for this occasion, and the tickets to the regular Lyceum Course will not be honored for this lecture.

After many weeks of effort the management of the Boys' Brigade Lyceum Course has secured the date of the first entertainment of the course. It was first thought that there would be no entertainments before the latter part of November and if the regular list of attractions had been adhered to this would have been the case but in order that the patrons of the course might not be made to wait until this late date for the first entertainment a substitution was effected at a considerable expense to the local promoters of the course by which the Riheldaffer-Gailey Concert Company has been secured for the opening number.

This company is composed of Madame Grace Hall Riheldaffer, one of America's greatest sopranos; Miss Dennison Gailey, violinist, and Miss Louise Milligan, pianist. The date set for this splendid concert is Friday night, November 7th.

The course for this season as originally arranged was one of the strongest and most satisfactory ever presented by the Boys' Brigade but by this new arrangement the course will be far superior. This movement for a better course even though the expense be greater, is in line with the previous efforts of this organization to present only the best which could be offered with the means at hand, and as the sale of tickets was so much greater this season than last the increased expense became possible and the subscribers to the course have received the benefit.

MAKING DARING TRIP.

Mariner in Small Open Boat En Route to California from Maine.

Capt. Mathias Johnson, a hardy mariner originally from Perth Amboy, N. J., but now hailing from Eastport, Maine, who plans to make a voyage from Maine to California in a small open boat, hove into this port Saturday afternoon and stayed over Sunday, resuming his voyage yesterday. He left Eastport on August 3rd, and plans to reach Panama a week before New Year's day. On that day he hopes to make the journey through the canal, and expects to reach San Francisco on February 22nd, the anniversary of George Washington's birthday.

Capt. Johnson's boat which he has named the George Washington, is 28 feet long and six feet wide. It is equipped with sails and also with a gasoline engine. The boat is handsomely furnished with mahogany seats. She is capable of making seven knots an hour but Capt. Johnson says that he expects to put in a more powerful engine when he reaches Florida waters so that she will make 12 knots an hour.

Capt. Johnson has been 21 years a seaman, and has sailed over nearly all the known world. He used to be on a government supply boat, and has visited Wilmington several times, his last trip here having been made in 1898 just after the riot.

His present voyage will include 7,000 miles in all, which he will make alone. At night he casts anchor, and goes to sleep. When he awakes he resumes his voyage. He states that he has not yet encountered any rough weather, and rather hoots at the idea of danger. His next stop at a big port will be at Charleston. He also expects to stop at Savannah. It is his intention after reaching San Francisco to spend some time at the Panama Exposition.

Fire in Coal Bunkers.

Spontaneous combustion caused a fire to start in the coal bunkers of the Champion Compress several days ago which the employes now have under complete control. Sunday Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son asked Fire Chief Schnibben to detail several firemen to assist in suppressing the flames on account of many of the employes of the plant being away. There are between 500 and 700 tons of coal in the bunkers.

SERIES OF REVIVAL SERVICES

Rev. Dr. T. W. O'Kelley, of Raleigh, Preached First Sermon Last Night.—Heard by a Large Audience.

Rev. Dr. T. W. O'Kelley, pastor of the First Baptist church of Raleigh, preached his first sermon last night in the series of revival services now in progress at the First Baptist church of this city. He was heard by a large congregation and his simple but eloquent presentation of the Gospel truths made a deep impression. At the close of the service two joined the church by letter and one joined for baptism.

His text was from John 12:21 and was "We Would See Jesus." He showed the deep impelling motive that actuated the people in their desire to see Christ. Everyone, he said, is interested in the man who does things out of the ordinary. Jesus had done a most wonderful deed by raising a man from the dead, and consequently everybody wanted to see him.

The Greeks, mentioned in the text, however, were not satisfied with a superficial view but really wanted to know him. They made their desire known by going to those who were near to Jesus. Dr. O'Kelley made a practical application of the incident by asking, "Has anyone ever asked you to help him to Jesus?"

Jesus' answer to the request of the Greeks emphasized the importance of his death, the speaker continued. He showed clearly that if those who would know Him do not see Him as the sacrifice for their sins that no other view or knowledge of Him will do any good. He appealed to the members of the congregation to get the right view of Christ, and to learn to know Him as their Saviour.

The services will continue through the week, and Dr. O'Kelley will preach each afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and at night at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend all services.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, the pastor, preached two strong sermons Sunday morning and night to large congregations. His messages had special reference to the revival services of this week, and much interest was manifested by those present. He expressed the hope that the services would be the means of awakening a great spiritual awakening.

INDOOR BASEBALL.

Boys' Brigade Will Have New Sport. Reception for Youngsters.

Interest in indoor baseball has grown to such an extent that it has been decided to organize an indoor baseball league. This was effected last night after the regular meeting with four teams of seven men each and games will be played every Saturday afternoon in the gymnasium of the Boys' Brigade.

The captains are Iva Palmgren, the star shortstop of Company B baseball team; Ed Register, who pitched such great ball during the Summer for Company B baseball team; Mack Wilson, the midget catcher and captain of the Railers in the City League, and Carlysle Shepherd. Games will begin next Saturday afternoon at 2:30. There will be two games of nine innings each and some fast ball will be played.

The Juniors will hold their first social session of the season Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The committee in charge has arranged a pleasant programme of music, games and refreshments, all of which will appeal to the little fellows who compose Company C.

The mothers of several of the boys have entered into the spirit of the occasion and will assist in arranging the decorations, in conducting the games, serving the refreshments and other ways known only to mothers. This assures a good time for the boys of Company C. Another pleasant feature is that each boy in the company is to invite two of his boy friends to enjoy the afternoon with him so that there will be quite a large attendance at this opening reception.

Thrown from Motorcycle and Hurt.

Mr. H. M. Prince while riding a motorcycle yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, collided with a team belonging to Messrs. Schloss, Bear, Davis & Co., as it was returning from a funeral at Brooklyn Baptist church, at Seventh and Red Cross streets, and was thrown from the machine and badly bruised up. He was taken to the James Walker Memorial Hospital where his injuries were treated. He was able to return home. There were several carriages being driven along Red Cross street when Mr. Prince came around the corner. He passed the first one and when he saw that he would run into the second carriage he attempted to ride across in front of the team, but failed to do so, and collided with the horses, knocking them both down. The horses were not seriously hurt.

Boiler Removed From Vessel.

The Marine Railway Compaiy, which has the contract for raising the City of Fayetteville, which was sunk at the cotton compress dock here several weeks ago, succeeded yesterday in getting the boiler from the vessel, and expect within a short time to have the boat floated. It has not yet been possible to learn just what was the cause of the vessel's sinking, and this will not be known until she is raised. Her cargo of cotton was removed soon after she sank.

Death of Miss Annie Ennett.

Friends in the city yesterday learned with regret of the death of Miss Annie Ennett, which occurred in Raleigh Sunday night at 11:45 o'clock. She was 35 years old and is survived by her mother, Mrs. Jennie Ennett, of this city, and two brothers, Messrs. W. B. Ennett, of Wilmington, and E. C. Ennett, of Sneed's Ferry. The body will arrive this morning at 10 o'clock, and will be taken immediately to Prospect church at Middle Sound, where the funeral and interment will take place.

An Interesting Proposition.

The attention of our readers is called to the half-page advertisement in this issue of the Brett Engineering & Constructing Company, of Wilson, N. C. This company has, during the last four years, had very much to do with the development of Eastern North Carolina and it will be remembered that they made the plans for the Park Hill Drainage District of Perquimans county and also have the contract for the work.

Not very long ago they completed the work for the Lion Swamp Drainage District in Bladen and Pender counties, and also the work on the Chadbourn Drainage District in Columbus county. At an early date they will begin work in the Flea Hill Drainage District in Cumberland county, having received that contract.—Advertisement.

BETTER EXPRESS SERVICE

Southern Express Co., Inaugurates Service on Seaboard Trains Nos. 19 and 20 and A. C. L. Trains Nos. 90 and 91.

Mr. J. W. Smith, the local manager of the Southern Express Company, made the important announcement yesterday that express service had been inaugurated on Seaboard Air Line trains Nos. 19 and 20 and Atlantic Coast Line trains Nos. 90 and 91, which is information that will be received with the greatest interest not only in Wilmington, where the service will mean so much to the merchants, but at points on the Seaboard between Wilmington and Hamlet and on the Coast Line between Wilmington and Goldsboro, which territories will be benefitted by the new service.

The service on the Seaboard began Saturday, while the new service on the Coast Line began last night. Heretofore there has been only one express each way a day on the Seaboard, but with the new service every Seaboard train in and out of Wilmington will carry express. Until now the only outgoing Seaboard train to carry express was the one leaving here in the afternoon. All incoming express to arrive over that line got here on the noon train. Now the train leaving here at 5 o'clock in the morning is provided with express service. However, only three points will be served this side of Hamlet, these being Lumberton, Maxton and Laurinburg, which are the larger towns between Wilmington and Hamlet. Express will be taken on the early train for any express points beyond Hamlet. The train arriving here at midnight will hereafter bring express. This new service on the two trains has long been needed by the merchants and others of the city who have had occasion to send packages up the Seaboard. The increased incoming service will also be of great benefit.

The service on trains Nos. 90 and 91 is intended mostly for through business, but it is expected that it will also be of benefit in serving some of the towns between Wilmington and Goldsboro, although that line has had pretty good service all along.

Mr. Smith stated that it is hoped to move into the new quarters on Front street, near Red Cross, about the first of November. This is the building that has been used by the company for some time as the station office. The station office will be removed to the building that has been secured from the Coast Line, just beyond the old union station.

THE SEASHORE HOTEL CO.

Annual Meeting of Stockholders—Officers Re-elected.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Seashore Hotel Company, which owns and operates the Seashore Hotel at Wrightsville Beach, was held Saturday in the directors' room of the Murchison National Bank with the president of the company, Mr. Geo. R. French, presiding, while a record of the proceedings was kept by Mr. Geo. Sloan, the secretary. Reports of the officers of the company showed the past year to have been a most successful one. Directors were elected as follows: Messrs. Geo. R. French, E. L. Hinton, H. C. Bear and D. H. Penton. Following the meeting of the stockholders the directors held a meeting and re-elected officers as follows: President, Geo. R. French; vice president, J. H. Hinton; manager, E. L. Hinton; secretary and treasurer, George Sloan. A dividend of 6 per cent was declared.

FUEL IS SCARCE.

Two Negroes in Limbo Charged With Hauling Wood Away Last Night.

Alphonso and Gus McNeill, both colored, charged with stealing wood from the yards of the Consumers' Wood & Coal Co., at Nutt and Hanover streets, were arrested last night by Officer J. F. Jordan, and placed in the city prison to await a hearing before the Recorder this morning. The warrants were sworn out by Mr. J. B. Fountain, manager of the company. The negroes, it is stated, had gotten one load, and had come back for a second when they were arrested. It was cold enough last night to find a ready market for fuel of most any kind, and perhaps they were tempted beyond their strengh. Anyway, they are in limbo, and it will be up to them to explain matters to the satisfaction of the court this morning.

MEETING OF ODD FELLOWS.

Splendid Address Last Night by Rev. J. A. Sullivan.

A special session of Campbell Encampment, I. O. O. F., was held last evening in the Odd Fellows' building which was addressed by Rev. J. A. Sullivan, pastor of Brooklyn Baptist church. The speaker took his subject, "Team Work," which he discussed in an able manner. He showed the necessity of having team work not only in fraternal and secret orders but in every walk of life. There was a large attendance from all the lodges of the city, and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed. Following the address of Mr. Sullivan refreshments were served. Prior to the beginning of the formal exercises of the evening a secret conference of the encampment was held.

FUNERAL OF MRS. POTTER.

Services From Brooklyn Baptist Church Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. Fannie Potter, whose death occurred Saturday night at her home, No. 923 North Fifth street, was held yesterday afternoon from Brooklyn Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Sullivan. The services were attended by a large number of friends and relatives of the deceased. Many floral designs attested the love and esteem in which she was held by those who knew her. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. L. L. Larkins, Z. E. Murrell, W. L. Vann and C. N. Packer.

Wilmington Boys Playing Football.

The Greensboro News of Sunday carried an interesting account of a football game played in Greensboro Saturday between the High School team of that city, and the freshman team of the University at Chapel Hill. The score was 34 to 0 in favor of the University boys. Three former players on the Wilmington High School team played on the University team, these being "Bill" Monroe, who is captain of the team, and played right end; Chas. Burnett, right tackle, and A. Alderman, quarterback.

Death of Young Son.

Many friends will regret to learn of the death of Ralph Lewis, the three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Barnhill, which occurred at their home at No. 803 North Ninth street yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the residence. The interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. W. J. Kirkham returned Sunday night from a two weeks' trip to the mountains of Virginia.

COLD WEATHER IS HERE.

Falling Temperatures in the Eastern States—Frosts in Southwest.

No need to say anything about it for it is already a well-established fact that cold weather is here. Wraps, overcoats, fires, all the paraphernalia, characteristic of Winter, were in much demand last night. The weather man said little about it before hand, and the cold snap caught many unawares yesterday. Preceded by rains the cold wave, accompanied by high winds in this section, has spread over the entire South.

Killing frosts were reported yesterday morning throughout Oklahoma, and at many points in Texas, Mississippi, Arkansas and Alabama. Snow was reported yesterday morning at Nashville, Tennessee, and St. Louis, Mo. A snow storm was said to be raging in Georgia. Killing frosts throughout the South are expected this morning.

The weather man predicts cool weather in this section today with high west winds prevailing. How long the cold wave will last it is impossible to say but it will probably be several days before its force is spent. In Wilmington, however, it is pointed out by the "oldest inhabitant" that cold weather never lasts long, especially at this season of the year.

The frosts will do much damage to the cotton crop in this section as there are many green bolls, due to the excessive rains of the past few weeks which have kept the weed from maturing. This is also true of a large part of the South.

RAISES INTERESTING POINT.

W. P. M. Turner, Esq., Says Tax Cases Should Go to Recorder.

Engaged as counsel for one of the number indicted, W. P. Mangum Turner, Esq., yesterday raised the very interesting point that all the indictments brought at the last term of Superior Court against persons for failure to list their taxes, should be remanded to the Recorder's court for trial, for, as 60 days had not elapsed from the date of the alleged offense until the bills were returned, the lower court had the original exclusive jurisdiction.

The point was mentioned to Judge Rountree, who remarked that he had not thought of the question and therefore was not prepared to give an opinion. It is likely that the question will be brought up formally by Mr. Turner at the criminal term of Superior Court in November.

There were about 300 indictments against as many persons brought at the September term of Superior Court for failure to list taxes. The costs in the Superior Court, including the service of the capias, amount to $9.25 In the Recorder's court it would only be a little more than half this amount, Mr. Turner contends. While the difference in one case does not amount to so much, taken as a whole it runs up several hundred dollars.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The total cotton receipts for this port yesterday were 8,654 bales; for the same date last year they were 2,867 bales.

—License has been issued for the marriage of Mr. Leo Todd, of Wilmington, and Miss Laura High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. High, of Whiteville.

—Arthur Cole, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Plainclothesman Leon George, on a charge of vagrancy. He will have a hearing ing this morning before the Recorder.

—Maggie Davis, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Plainclothesman Leon George, on a charge of violating the prohibition law. She was placed in the city prison to await a hearing before the Recorder this morning.

—John Fales, white, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable Davis on a warrant issued by Justice Harriss, charging him with violating the prohibition law. He gave bond, and will have a hearing before Justice Harriss this morning at 9 o'clock.

—Yesterday's Baltimore Sun: "The tugs Tormentor and Buccaneer have arrived at New York with dredging machine and four pocket scows, from Norfolk, for P. Ross Sanford Company. One of the tugs was to leave at once for Southport, N. C., to tow the disabled schooner Dorothy Belle to New York, with lumber, from Darien.

GREAT GAME THURSDAY.

A. & M. and Georgetown to Meet on Riddick Field in Raleigh.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 20.—Thursday the hardest game on the A. & M. schedule will be played on Riddick field here, when the Red and White will line up against the strong team from Georgetown University. This is one of the big events of the State Fair, and as this will be about the biggest and most evenly matched game in the State this year, a record-breaking attendance is expected.

Three years ago these two teams battled a scoreless tie game here. They did not meet two years ago, but last year the Hilltoppers came down fair week, and wiped up the earth with the A. & M. eleven. This year will be a different tale, however, as there is all the difference imaginable in the A. & M. team of this year and last year. Last year the backfield was weak both on the offense and secondary defense, but this year it is powerful and fast. Last year the line was strong, but too slow and heavy. This year the line is just as strong, and maybe a little stronger, but lighter and much faster.

The line-up for Thursday's game will be about as follows: Center, Plyler, 180 pounds, who is playing his second year on 'Varsity and fourth year on the squad, and was All-State center last year.

Left guard, Anthony, G. H., 173 pounds, who is playing his third year on the 'Varsity. He played the past two years at fullback, but is proving a strong and fast forward this year.

Left tackle, Capt. Hurtt, who is playing his fourth year on the 'Varsity, and is one of the best tackles in the South. He is 6 feet 1 1-2 inches tall and weighs 181 pounds.

Letf end, Phillips, who is fast and gritty, although the lightest man in the line, weighing 148 pounds. This is his third year on the 'Varsity.

Right guard, McHenry, who is powerful, fast and gritty, weighing 186 pounds. This is his second year on the 'Varsity, having played last year at tackle.

Right tackle, Cooke, who gives promise of making one of the best tackles in this section. He weighs 193 pounds, and is very fast and heady. This will be Cooke's second year on the 'Varsity, he having made the team in his Freshman year.

Right end, Forderber, a new man, who seems to be the most likely candidate. He had never played football before he came here, but is developing into one of the best ends that has ever played here. He weighs about 175 pounds.

At quarterback, Vanbroklin will pilot the Techs against the team on which he played end last year. He is very fast and heady, and is developing into a valuable quarterback. He weighs about 170 pounds.

Riddick will play right half. He is an old Raleigh High School boy, and played last year at Wake Forest. He has starred in every game played this year, and is a good broken field runner. He is six feet tall and weighs 176 pounds.

At left half, Sullivan, a new man, will be seen. He is very fast, and a first-class ground gainer. He weighs about 170 pounds.

At fullback, Tenney, who is proving to be one of the best line plungers in the South, will be depended upon to go through the Georgetown line. He weighs 190 pounds, and is very fast for his size, and is always good for a substantial gain.

Besides the above, the following men will probably have a chance to play part of the game, as they are all good fast men.

Ends, Anthony, O. S., and Seifert, of last year's scrubs; Beauregard, of last year's Central High School team, and Winston, of last year's sub at guard, Rice, a last year's sub, who is very fast at quarter, Cy Young, a last year's Bingham (Asheville) man, and Osborne, a last year's scrub at half backs, and R. Young, from Asheville High School, at fullback.

From comparative scores, Georgetown and A. & M. are very evenly matched, and a hardf-fought and well-played contest is expected, and the Red and White will put everything they have into winning the game, to get even with the Hilltoppers for last year's defeat.

EXPLOSION WRECKS YACHT.

Gasoline Ablaze—Owners and Crew Jump Just in Time.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 20.—An explosion of gasoline totally wrecked the cruiser yacht Hillies in Great Bay today.

A moment before the explosion Horace Beck, whose father, a well known Philadelphia physician, owned the craft; Capt. Hounslea, and a seaman jumped overboard and swam nearly a mile to an island. They said the gasoline caught fire. They were unable to get it under control. The yacht was 60 feet long and was valued at $10,000.

GOOD PRICES FOR COTTON

Cooler Weather Boomed Market Yesterday—Receipts at This Port Show an Increase Over Last Year.

Cotton prices ran up from 45 to 50 points yesterday afternoon on account of generally cooler weather throughout the entire cotton belt, especially in the Southwestern States, where killing frosts were reported yesterday morning.

Although the cotton yield in North Carolina and the entire South is much less than had been expected, the erceipts at this port have been larger than they were for the corresponding period last year, the good prices having kept the market active.

Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son now have five British steamers at this port ready for cargoes.

The general expectations of a large American crop of the staple, based upon perfect stands and continual favorable weather conditions, which indicated a price to the farmers of from 9 to 11 cents a pound, were completely upset during the latter part of August and early September, by the incessant rains and excessive precipitation in the Southwest, including Texas and Oklahoma, where the damage increased to alarming proportions and made a readjustment of crop forecasts necessary, causing the price to advance nearly 2 cents a pound.

The crop in the Eastern Atlantic States continued to thrive under more favorable weather conditions, and although the expectations for a large crop were somewhat lowered, the crop, especially in Georgia, continued to be most promising until the appearance of the anthracnose in North Carolina and other States caused the estimates of the crop to be reduced from 10 to 25 per cent.

About two weeks ago the rains in the Southwest ceased, and picking became general. Great damage, however, was done to the quality of the staple, and hundreds of thousands of bales of dog-tailed cotton is being gathered. More favorable estimates of the yield as to bales were made, and one or two of the more optimistic, hitherto regarded as good authority, claimed that the damage had been greatly exaggerated.

These predictions caused a drop of more than a cent a pound from the highest price of the advance, and the market looked as if it were going lower still until last week, when rains again covered the great Southwest, and brought the more pessimistic again to the front. Unquestionably, the crop in Texas and Oklahoma has been seriously damaged, it is stated, and has been cut short. There has also been large deterioration in other parts of the Southwest.

Georgia, alone, in the East, continues to be perfect in conditions.

The market was wavering with a lower tendency last Saturday, but apprehensions of killing frosts in the Southwest, which were fully realized yesterday morning, a snow storm in Georgia, and a cold wave approaching the Carolinas, ran the market up yesterday afternoon from 45 to 50 points. Whether this increase is maintained, will depend upon confirmation of damages from the killing frosts.

Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, the cotton exporters of Wilmington, state that in a season like this the observation and experience of a half century count for but little, because of unexpected factors in shaping values from day to day.

The country is full of speculators, they state, who are actuated by local conditions and observations, and in some instances by motives described by one of their interior buyers who writes them that his local market is dominated by a speculator whose income is precarious, and who always buys actively without regard to price, when ne has dreams of cats and squirrels.

NEW CLUB BEGINS ITS WORK

Mr. Chas. N. Evans Heads City's Youngest Commercial Organization—Starts Off With a Fine Meeting.

A new factor in the business life of the community was brought into active being at a largely attended and representative meeting of the business and professional men in the Elks' Temple last night, when the Wilmington Commercial Club perfected permanent organization. No sooner had the organization been perfected than the club took up a matter of vital concern to Wilmington—the establishment of a steamship line between Wilmington and Baltimore, which it would seem is pretty well assured, if the business men here want it bad enough to become financially interested.

The officers of the club elected last night follow:

President—Chas. N. Evans.
First Vice-President—C. E. Greenamyer.
Second Vice-Preisdent — L. W. Moore.
Secretary—Meares Harriss.
Treasurer—Thos. E. Cooper.

With the above named officers, the following constitute the executive committee: George Honnet, W. A. McGirt, Thos. H. Wright, A. O. Schuster, Chas. C. Loughlin, D. N. Chadwick, Jr. The executive committee will have the real management of the organization. One of the first things it will be called upon to do is to select a business manager, or city builder, a man who is experienced in this particular line of work.

Mr. Meares Harriss was prevailed upon to accept the secretaryship for a period of three months, until a suitable person can be found to fill the position of city builder, and then it is likely that the three offices will be combined—that of the secretary and treasurer with that of city builder, who will be given any clerical help that he may need in the conduct of his office. With the understanding that his duties were to be limited, Mr. Harriss consented to take the office for the period named, and his compensation was fixed at $50 a month.

The election of Mr. Evans as President was unanimous over his strong protest. Several times he urged that his name be withdrawn from consideratin, stating that he preferred to work in the ranks. At one time he spoke at length, giving in detail his reasons why he would prefer not to be placed at the head of the organization. The club was determined to have him, and the members would not listen to his requests. Members of the club regard him as one of Wilmington's most progressive and valued citizens, recognize his ability as a leader, know of his keen insight into affairs, and admire his broad-minded and public spirited policies. They feel that the club has cause for congratulation that he was finally persuaded to accept the office. He has been active in everything that made for the upbuilding and advancement of the material interests of the city in the past few years—ever since he became a resident of the city.

It was announced that there are now 106 members of the club.

It was voted to continue the list for charter members until the next regular meeting, November 7th, by which time it is hoped to run the list to at least 200. The ultimate goal is 1,000 members. Nearly every member present last night pledged to bring in from one to ten new members by the next meeting. The membership dues are to remain at $25 a year until the next meeting. The members sign up for three years.

Mr. C. E. Greenamyer, who was chairman of the temporary organization to secure the charter and make other preliminary arrangements, submitted for the consideration of the club a set of by-laws, which he had drawn. These were referred to the committee to take under advisement and report at the next meeting with such recommendations as thought advisable.

The temporary secretary of the club was Mr. Sig Zulowsky, who, with Mr. Greenamyer, is responsible in a large measure for the organization of the club.

After the permanent organization of the club had been perfected, Capt. M. L. Gilbert, representing the Morse Securities Company, of New York, was introduced to the meeting, and he outlined briefly the proposition of his company to establish a line of steamers between Wilmington and Baltimore, the idea of putting on a line between Wilmington and New York having been abandoned for the present.

Capt. Gilbert said that he had the matter up with the Chamber of Commerce and would have a meeting with President Corbett, of that organization, this morning. While no action was taken by the new club, it was the sense of the organization that Wilmington should have and needs the new line of steamers. It is proposed to place two steamers in operation between Wilmington and Baltimore, one within four weeks and the other within six weeks. Two steamers, C. Tower, Jr., and Lansing, are at Bath, Me., undergoing repairs, and they are to be put on the line, if established. These steamers, said Capt. Gilbert, are about twice the size of the Clyde Line steamers. The company enters a guarantee to operate the line for five years. The privilege is reserved to make one or more other Southern ports in the event it is necessary, in order to make the cargoes for the vessels. It is proposed to have a steamer a week from Baltimore. The company has a third boat, he said, that would be put into service if there was a surplus of business. The company asks that the business men of Wilmington subscribe $25,000 in stock of the company, or, rather, that amount in 6 per cent. coupon bonds, more as a guarantee that the citizens will give the line its business than because the money is needed in financing the enterprise, it is said. The contract has been drawn, and is being circulated among the business men, who are signing up. Something definite will likely develop as to the line within a few days.

The meeting adjourned at 11:30 o'clock, after having been in session three hours.

TERRIFIC STORM RAGING.

Traffic in Chesapeake Bay Completely Demoralized.

Baltimore, Oct. 20.—One of the worst wind and rain storms ever experienced on the Eastern shore of Maryland is raging tonight.

The storm began early this afternoon and by nightfall lower Chesapeake Bay traffic was tied up.

Crisfield reported that water was two feet deep in the principal streets and still rising and that fishing boats in the harbor were being beaten to pieces. Other towns on tributaries of the Chesapeake Bay reported floods.

Great damage to oyster and fish industries will result.

Primrose and Dockstader, the reunited veteran minstrel stars, will be the attraction at the Academy Saturday, matinee and night.

Messrs. Primrose and Dockstader have surrounded themselves with an all-prominent organization of burnt cork celebrities, many of whom have appeared at the head of their own companies in other seasons. The veteran stars have put the muffler on the modern and have gone back to a big revival of old-time minstrelsy, which is like old mammy's baby-black, all black.

After a separation which has existed for nearly ten years, during which time Mr. Dockstader headed his own company and Mr. Primrose did likewise, one year ago they got together and decided to consolidate their respective organizations. The plan was to present minstrelsy, as it was created by Billy Whitlock, 70 years ago, plus magnificent scenery, gorgeous costumes and modern embellishments. The success of the undertaking was instantaneous. Practically every city in the country was visited and everywhere the re-united stars were greeted by capacity audiences. Messrs. Primrose and Dockstader appear in the acts that they have made famous from ocean to ocean, and they are said to be as graceful and funny as in yester years. Custom not only fails to stale their infinite variety, but long familiarity and professional intercourse with the amusement loving public serve to grip tighter each succeeding year the chords of sympathetic approval which binds them in popular esteem.

A street parade will be given on the day of the performance headed by Messrs. Primrose and Dockstader themselves. The tour is under the personal direction of Earl Burgess.

A special scale of prices will prevail for the matinee, being 25, 50 and 75 cents. Seats will go on sale at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store Thursday morning.

Vaudeville at Academy.

The vaudeville at the Academy of Music yesterday afternoon and last night was one of the best shows of its kind ever given in Wilmington. The Belmont Comedy Quartette leads the bill with original comedy and stock harmony singing. The applause by the large audiences was so generously given even to the four other feature acts that it was hard to tell which was the most popular.

Mr. Joe Egan with his cleverly trained dogs made a hit with the children as well as the grown-ups who are fond of animals. The Stellings appeal to music-loving people as they play on banjos an assortment of classic and rag-time selections. Mr. Bert Laurence is really funny and an exceptionally clever dancer. The bill closes with the McLinn trio but the audience was so insistent with well-merited applause that this act had to give several encores.

Mr. Peiffer is to be congratulated upon having secured such an assortment of excellent talent, and everyone who can do so should see the programme before it changes which will be Thursday.

Swell Film at Grand.

A trio of the swellest of the swell films at the cozy, handsome Grand Theatre today. In other words, a great triumvirate which will immensely please every one. The photoplays will be headed by Lubin's "To Love, and Cherish," which is a great story of dramatic power, showing a woman who is suddenly confronted with a paralyzed husband, her temptation being weary and worried, but her final decision to remain true to her marriage vows and her husband, and then the day becomes bright. It is a story with both a grip and a big moral.

There is another topliner in the way of something fiery dramatic in Selig's "The Rancher's Failing", which has for its most spectacular scenes a tragedy on the desert, with a pack of real wolves playing an important part.

The latest Pathe Weekly is also one of today's stars. It is filled with current events, including sight of New York during that city's recent mourning for the late Mayor Gaynor, scenes of the Hoo-Hoo convention in St. Louis, and ending with a great editorial feature. The Grand is doing big business these days, thus attesting its growing popularity.

Special Release at Bijou.

With that charming, popular actress, Miss Lillian Walker, and the dashing, equally as popular actor, Mr. Frank Morey, in the leading roles, the Bijou will head its big show today with a special two-reel release, "Our Wifes." Its the Vitagraph's latest and merriest. It is the greatest special release of a comedy subject ever manufactured and has the greatest cast, as the names of Miss Walker and Mr. Morey will indicate. Its the story of two young married men who back a comic opera star playing the roles of "the angels". What happens to the show and also to the young men, as result of the ire of their wives, make up a continuous scream. It's the richest thing in the fun line that has yet come down the moving picture pike.

The Biograph also has its star on today in "The Strong Man's Burden." It is the story of the stronger son promising to care for the weaker one, and what happens when he sets out to find a thief and comes face to face with the brother.

Of course, the Bijou is the comfortable spot and the price of admission never advances, always being 5 cents. No matter how chill the weather, it is as warm as toast, and yet freely ventilated.

Boston, Mass, Oct. 20.—The steamer Templemore, abandoned on fire off the Virginia Capes. on September 30th, was towed into port today by the revenue cutter Androscoggin. The steamer probably will be turned over to agents of the company in which she was insured.

Effective, Economical Complexion Beautifier

(Julia Orff in The Clubwoman)

One reason I so strongly recommend mercolized wax is that it really takes the place of several different cosmetics, saving time, patience and expense. It is better than any cleansing cream, better than any massage cream, and better than any rouge, for accomplishing the results for which such articles are used. As the wax actually absorbs an old, faded or discolored cuticle, a little each day, the underlying skin which gradually appears, is cleaner, softer, healthier-hued and more youthful than any cosmetic-made complexion. Spreading on a thin coat of this wax at night, washing it off mornings, in a week or so produces a marvelous transformation. Just one ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will do the work. There's nothing better to remove freckles, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, blotches, pimples or blackheads.

For wrinkles and loose, saggy skin, I invariably recommend a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

ADVANCES IN COTTON MARKET

Most Sensational Rise of the Season Five Dollars and Twenty Cents a Bale Above the Low Record.

New York, Oct. 20.—Reports of frost and generally bad weather in the belt were followed by one of the most sensational advances of the season in the market today.

Prices did not make new high records for the year but they advanced fully $5.30 a bale from the low level reached last week and the market closed very steady at practically the best point of the day and from 49 to 58 points above the closing figures of last Saturday. Both private and official reports indicated that frost had formed at many points in the Western belt and in several sections of the Mississippi Valley, while snow or sleet was reported in Northern parts of the Eastern belt with indications for still colder weather and additional frosts tonight. There had been some indications on Saturday's weather map that conditions might be unfavorable in the belt this morning but no one seemed prepared for such "Wintry" conditions as were actually reported and while realizing was heavy, it was readily absorbed by an excited general buying movement.

The opening was firm at an advance of 27 to 38 points and an early reaction of 10 or 12 points from the best was quickly succeeded by renewed strength on heavy Southern and local buying orders. A prominent Southern operator who arrived here from New Orleans today was credited with buying heavily during the day on a belief that the crop was under 14,000,000 bales and that the world's requirements would approximate 15,000,000 should the cotton be available. There was also a big scattering demand from the South accompanying the bad weather and crop reports while there was active covering by recent local sellers, and considerable support from the big trade houses. Closing prices were within a point or two of the best and within 3 or 4 points of the season's high record on most of the active months.

Spot, steady. Middling uplands, 14.30; do. gulf, 14.55; sales, 500 bales.

Futures closed very steady.

STOCK MARKET LOOSES

The Hope That the Rise in Stocks Late Last Week Would be Continued Was Extinguished Yesterday.

New York, Oct. 20.—Hopes that the rise in stocks late last week was the prelude to a sustained upward movement were extinguished today.

For a time after the opening prices rose slightly. This was largely under the spur of buying by London. A few stocks, including Denver & Rio Grande, Erie first preferred, Rock Island and American Car, rose a point or more, but it was soon apparent that no broad demand had developed. The short ceased buying stocks to cover and put out new lines instead. The market turned and early advances were soon replaced with losses. The list was well under Saturday's close most of the day, although a late rally reduced losses and in some cases cancelled them.

The discouraging feature, from the point of view of the bulls, was the ease with which prices were depressed. The railroad list was heaviest. Such stocks as St. Paul, Lehigh, Reading, Pennsylvania, New York Central and Union Pacific, were off one to two points at the low figures of the day. New Haven, which dropped to 83, reached a new low record.

The Coppers were benefitted temporarily by an advance in the metal in London. Foreign exchange rates advanced slightly today, after reaching new low points for the year late last week.

Bonds were irregular with further pressure on Rock Island issues. Total sales, par value, $1,150,000. United States 2s advanced 1-4c on call. Total stock sales 278,100, including American Tobacco 100; A. C. L. 200; C. & O. 1,400! Lehigh Valley 700; N. & W. 400; Reading 37,200; S. A. L. 200; do preferred 600; Southern Railway 600; Tenn. HERE IT IS AGAIN.

More "Positive Assurances" About Glenn and His Job.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Positive assurances were received tonight from an unquestionable authority that President Wilson will appoint former Governor Robert B. Glenn to a position on the Inter-State Commerce Commission to succeed either Judges Prouty or Clemments. The nomination is expected to go to the Senate within a very short time. If Mr. Glenn is to succeed Mr. Prouty it is thought his nomination will be sent in this week; if it is to take the place now held by Judge Clemments, it will not be announced for a month as Commissioner Clemments' term does not expire till December.

Mr. Glenn has been asked by the Democratic National Committee to go to Maryland and help out in the State campaign now raging in that State.

"I have been notified by my lecture bureau that I am to speak in Raleigh Tuesday, October 28th. I do not know before what audience the speech will be delivered," said Senator LaFollette tonight to The Star correspondent when asked whether he would accept the invitation of Berry O'Kelly, president of the negro fair association, which was extended to the Wisconsin Senator through Senator Overman and Representative Pou.

ces of the case, I conclude that the best disposition to make of the matter will be to accept the assurances of all parties concerned and admit Mrs. Pankhurst on her own recognizance to depart from the country at the termination of her engagements, and so recommend."

In his memorandum to the secretary the commissioner described the case in hand as follows:

"Alien is a native of Manchester, England, aged 51; traveling alone, is a widow with three children in Europe. Paid her own passage, has no occupation, has been in the United States twice before, once in the Autumn of 1909, and again from October 1911 to January, 1912; going to friend, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Madison avenue, New York City; has $2,000. The board excluded alien by unanimous vote as a person who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor which, in the opinion of the board, involves moral turpitude."

Today's hearing was more colorful than yesterday's which was informal. Acting Secretary Post and Chief Parker, of the law division, sat with Commissioner Caminetti and the attorneys were seated at tables. There was a crush for admission to the small chamber and it quickly was filled with women who did not reveal their sympathies.

Herbert Reeves, attorney for the British leader, first presented a long brief reviewing first the facts and then contended that the acts of which Mrs. Pankhurst had been convicted in England were purely political ogenses and did not involve moral turpitude, the real question at issue. His argument was long and technical and cited portions of decisions in many immigration cases and some of the works of John B. Moore, now Assistant Secretary of State, and an authority on international law. He quoted Mrs. Pankhurst's testimony before the immigration inspectors at Ellis Island and concluded:

"From that testimony it is respectfully submitted that at the time of the commission of the acts complained of there was an uprising or revolt on the part of the women in England, that this uprising or revolt was of a political nature and that any crimes committed by Mrs. Pankhurst, if any were committed by her, were crimes purely of a political nature and not such as to involve moral turpitude.

"The mere delivery of lectures or speeches urging women to strive for what she believed to be their legal and political rights is certainly an act intended to forward and help a political cause and such an act therefore must be deemed, if an offense at all a political offense. Nor can it be claimed or successfully ascertained that the mere urging of her hearers to destroy property if necessary to bring about the desired result is an act involving moral turpitude."

Attorney Frank S. O'Neil referred to Mrs. Pankhurst's pledge that she would conduct herself in a lawful manner while in this country.

"She said that she is pledged to the American people and she will keep it," declared the attorney.

Commissioner Caminetti asked if Mrs. Pankhurst intended to preach militancy here.

"Emphatically no," responded Mr. O'Neil.

Mrs. Pankhurst Lands.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English militant suffragette leader, landed on Manhattan Island at 1 o'clock today from Ellis Island where she had been detained since last Saturday by the immigration authorities. She had been ordered deported as an undesirable alien, but President Wilson and Secretary of Labor Wilson intervened in her appeal from this decision and today instructed Anthony Caminetti, commissioner general of immigration, to release her on her own recognizance and without bond. Mrs. Pankhurst now will be able to carry out her contemplated lecture tour in this country. She expects to sail for Europe November 28th.

It was difficult to imagine that the slightly built, gray-haired little woman who stepped ashore from the ferry boat at the battery was the same person that for several years had caused the British government so much trouble by reason of her militant tactics in behalf of woman suffrage of her incitations to militancy for "the cause." Although her tranquil countenance and brightness of eye gave no indication that she had gone through the ordeals of six prolonged hunger strikes to obtain her release from prison sentences imposed for illegal acts committed in England in her endeavor to gain votes for women.

Shortly after she landed Mrs. Pankhurst was taken in an automobile to the residence of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, where she had luncheon and tonight she was dined at the Aldine Club by the Woman's Political Union. She was highly elated over her release.

"The American people did it—it is their will," she said, "what will the English say." Then she paid her respects tartly to Reginald McKenna, the British Home Secretary, characterizing him as "the chief torturer for England." She said it was not her purpose to preach miltancy in this country, but that she would confine herself to an exposition of the treatment accorded the suffragettes in England.

Mrs. Pankhurst was the recipient of a demonstration unique in the annals of Ellis Island as she was leaving the immigration station. Men and women employes sought points of vantage from which to see the militant leader and the board of special inquiry adjourned its cases that its members and the immigrants might see her as she walked to the ferry boat and the freedom of the country.

More than 300 members of the Women's Political Union attended the dinner at the Aldine Club, which was given as an official welcome to Mrs. Pankhurst.

The militant leader in an address said the happenings of the last two days had done much to restore her confidence in the democracy of the American people.

"Think of the opinion of England when news of my release reaches there," she added. "They comitted me there for crimes against the law, which were prompted by the highest motives and nothing would have pleased them more than to have seen me deported."

To those who criticised motives and her right to come to America and preach her doctrines, to the people of this country, Mrs. Pankhurst said:

"I exercise the same right as the representative of any suppressed people to go to the people of other nations and plead for assistance. Your own Benjamin Franklin in the time of stress and difficulty, made a pilgrimage to France seeking relief and assistance. This is a woman's movement, and we plead the undeniable right to go to the women all over the civilized world and lay our case before them.

"I wish to say that I don't question the wisdom of the American people in conducting their campaign along the lines that they have, but I must say this, that I have never been happier than since I reached the decision that I and my daughters must fight our battles along the lines of militancy."

that the choice made by the former body will be allowed to stand.

Dr. Burleson, chosen for bishop of North Dakota, is secretary of the church board of missions with headquarters in this city. Dr. Capers is principal of the Columbia Institute for girls at Columbia, Tenn. Dr. Milo H. Gates is vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession of New York. Dr. Howden is rector of St. John's church at Georgetown.

The Very Rev. Charles Blaney Colmore, dean of the Cathedral Havana, Cuba, was selected by the House of Bishops as Bishop at Porto Rico. This missionary district includes Hayti and San Domingo.

The House of Deputies considered the support of its clergymen. A pension plan was submitted by Monell Sayre, of New York. As a result of the preliminary report of the joint commission appointed to take this matter up, a resolution was adopted continuing the commission power to become a corporation and put into operation a pension system covering the entire territory of the Episcopal church. The maximum pension will be $2,000 a year, and the minimum $500.

It was stated authoritatively today that the general convention which was to have closed next Saturday, will continue into the following week owing to the amount of important legislation yet to be considered.

A dinner in honor of the Southern Bishops, clergymen and lay delegates who are attending the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church here was given tonight by the Sewanee Alumni Association, of the University of the South. Thomas F. Gailor, bishop of Tennessee, was toastmaster. Speeches were made by Bishop Woodcock, of Kentucky; Bishop Albert W. McKnight, vice chancellor-elect of the University; Hudson Stuck, who climbed Mt. McKinley; George Wharton Pepper, of Philadelphia, and others.

Under the auspices of the general board of religious education a mass meeting was held tonight in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. The Right Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, Bishop of dissouri, and presiding bishop of the church, conducted the services and here were addresses on the general topic "religious education and the church."

The Right Charles H. Brent, D. D., bishop of the missionary district of the Philippine Islands, arraigned the public schools system in the United States with regard to religious training.

The bishop condemned the effort to start teaching of sex hygiene in the schools.

"These are things," said he "to be taught by the parents, through this to be learned from the holy lips of a mother and in the sanctity of the home."

CATHOLICS MEET.

Missionary Congress Holds Session in Boston.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 20.—Cardinal O'Connell presided at the opening business session of the Catholic Missionary Congress today.

The speakers included Archbishop Bonzano; the papal delegate; Bishop Schrembs, of Toledo, whose topic was "The Spirit of the Congress," and Archbishop Quigley, of Chicago.

Archbishop Quigley, who is chancellor of the Catholic church extension society, said that the object of this congress was "to take measures to enlighten as egectively as possible all our people upon the mission work of the church at home and abroad."

He urged that Catholic churches of all grades, as the schools and the homes "be made more and more the theatres for the dissemination of missionary information."

Formation of a supreme bureau to have charge of the general work of spreading knowledge of Catholic missions was advocated by Archbishop Quigley.

GOVERNOR GRANTS PARDON.

Three New Corporations Are Given Charters by the State.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 20.—Turner Whitsett, serving since 1907 in Rockingham county, on a seven years' sentence for criminal assault, gets a pardon from Governor Craig on recommendation of eight of the ten jurors still living, by Solicitor S. P. Graves and others.

Charters were issued this afternoon for three new corporation: The C. C. McLean Co., Greensboro, capital $100,000 authorized and $2,500 subscribed by C. C. and T. G. McLean and others for wholesale and retail grocery business.

The Davidson Bonded Warehouse Co., of Davidson, N. C., with $100,000 capital authorized and $25,000 subscribed by M. H. Goodwin, R. L. Hobbs and others.

The Farmers' Banking & Trust Co., of Cherryville, $100,000 capital authorized and $10,000 subscribed by Mrs. N. J. White, Mrs. Madge White Houser and F. L. Houser.

that he had read it when it was presented last August.

Huerta Increases Duty.

Mexico City, Oct. 20.—An increase of 50 per cent. in all import duties will become effective October 28th, by virtue of a decree by President Huerta, just published. Merchants and importers are making every effort to utilize the few remaining days to their advantage. Consumers generally are concerned over the prospect of a further advance in the already high prices prevailing.

The new increase in duties is in addition to the increase of 10 per cent. last July, making, as importers estimate it, a total advance of 65 per cent under the present adminstration. With foreign exchange ranging from 2.70 to 2.80 pesos for the dollar, gold, business men are in despair.

In the face of almost impossible business conditions already existing, many regard as inevitable the closing of their establishments.

STORM OFF NORFOLK.

Severe Blow Does Much Damage—Ships Collide.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 20.—During a severe southwest gale which swept the Virginia coast today, government bark No. 8, loaded with ammunition, went ashore near Bush Bluff lightship and her cargo may prove a total loss.

Barges No. 8 and No. 208 were in tow of the tug Massaret, en route to Hampton Roads, where the ammunition was to have been transferred to warships. When off Bush Bluff, the velocity of the wind became so great that the barges were torn from the tug and cast adrift. Barge No. 8 was driven ashore and seas beat over her, and she sank rapidly. Her cargo of ammunition was valued at $50,000 which will probably prove a total loss.

Barge No. 208 was picked up by the tug Edna V. Crews and towed to Nor' folk.

The British steamer Lucregen and Storton were blown against each other at Sewell's Point. The Storton had several plates dented and the Lucregen crushed her bow. Both ships will have to undergo repairs.

A. C. L. TRAIN DERAILED.

No. 36 Leaves Track Near Green Pond Fireman Killed.

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 20.—A derailment near Green Pond last night, when a colored fireman was killed, but with none of the passengers being injured, occurred to Northbound train No. 86, shortly after 9 o'clock. The engine turned over after leaving the track, and that several of the coaches also left the rails.

The only loss of life was that of the colored fireman, John Ramsey, who died shortly after sustaining his injuries. All the passengers aboard escaped without misnap. The exact cause of the derailment is being looked into. Traffic was resumed over the line as quickly as possible.

THREE AVIATORS KILLED.

Engine Stops in Midair, Hurling Them to Their Death.

Epinal, France, Oct. 20.—Lieut. Garnier and Sapper Genrot, of Epinal Military Aeroplane Depot were killed today. They were returning from Buc when the engine of their monoplane stopped suddenly. The machine capsized and the aviators fell from a height of 800 feet.

About the same time Corporal Aviator Dautroche, of the same depot, while making a flight near the depot, met with an almost similar and fatal accident. The engine of his machine became detached and the biplane turned over and fell into the river Moselle. Dautroche was drowned.

FINLEY NOT TO RUN.

W. F. Stevenson, of Cheraw, May Enter S. C. Congressional Race.

Chesterfield, S. C., Oct. 20.—There is a persistent rumor that Congressman Finley, of this district, will not be a candidate next year for re-election owing to the impairment of his health from the confinement and climate at Washington, and W. F. Stevenson has publicly announced that in case Mr. Finley is not a candidate to succeed himself, he will enter the race for the place. Mr. Stevenson's legislative and legal experience fit him for the work and Chesterfield county will no doubt remember him at the election with a handsome vote.

MASONIC CASE IN COURT.

State Grand Lodge Sued by the Scottish Rites Masons.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 20.—Quite a number of prominent Masons are to go to Winston-Salem from Raleigh and other sections of the State November 4th for the trial of the damage suit of the Supreme Council, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rites Masons vs. the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons, in which $20,000 is demanded for the publication of alleged libellous statementi against the Supreme Council Scottish Rites Masons in 1909. Past Grand Master S. M. Gattis was the head of the North Carolina Grand Lodge at that time and a special committee was appointed to investigate the Supreme Council, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rites Masons, and report as to the standing of the order. This committee consisted of Francis D. Winston, Walter E. Moore, Col. John Nichol. This committee submitted the report that is alleged to have contained the libellous matter. At the trial the North Carolina Grand Lodge will be represented by A. B. Andrews, Jr., and Major J. E. Alexander, of Winston-Salem. J. L. Patterson, of Winston, is counsel for the plaintiffs. It is stated that the plaintiffs in this case brought a similar suit against the Grand Lodge of Masons of Louisiana and the Masons of that State won out. Masons of this State are not at all apprehensive as to the outcome of the case in this State.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Investigation of ship construction to make ocean passenger traffic safe, particularly by fire at sea, was proposed in a resolution today by Senator Weeks. The President would appoint a commission of three.

THE COMMERCIAL CONGRESS

Programme for Convention in Mobile Announced—Great Array of Speakers Are Expected for the Meeting.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Announcement was made today at the Southern Commercial Congress of the completed programme of the Fifth Annual Convention of the Congress, which will be held in Mobile, Ala., October 27-29.

The greatest array of speakers who ever attended a convention of any kind in this country are on the programme. They include President Wilson, Secretary Bryan, Secretary Daniels, Senators Fletcher, Smith, Bankhead, Ransdell, Vardaman and Brady; Governor O'Neal, of Alabama; McCreary, of Kentucky; Major of Missouri; Trammell, of Florida, and ex-Governor Noel, of Mississippi; Representatives Underwood, Heflin, Hobson, Abercrombie, Taylor and Clayton; Minister Morales, of Panama; Minister Pezet, of Peru; Minister Calderon, of Bolivia; Consul General for Brazil, de Cunah; Director General of the Pan American Union, John Barrett; Managing Director of the Southern Commercial Congress, Dr. C. J. Owens; Lieut. Col. Sibert, of the Isthmian Canal Commission; President Finley, of the Southern Railway; President Collier, of the Panama-California Exposition; Prof. Emory R. Johnson, of the Isthmian Canal Commission; United States Commissioner of Education, P. P. Claxton; Hon. John H. Haslam, of Saskatchewan, Can.; A. H. Baldwin, chief of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce; T. V. Powderly, chief of the Bureau of Information of the Department of Labor; Vice President Thomas S. Southgate, of the Southern Commercial Congress; Treasurer William H. Saunders, of the Southhern Commercial Congress; General Counsel Chas. A. Douglas, of the Southern Commercial Congress; Col. Harvie Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association; President Crawford, of the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Company; Governor Richard L. Metcalf, of the Panama Canal Zone, and many other distinguished American and Pan American citizens.

The Southeastern Passenger Association has made one fare round trip rates to Mobile for the convention. Indications are that mare than 10,000 delegates and visitors will attend this convention, which will be the greatest ever held in the United States.

The State Department and the Pan American Union are co-operating with the Southern Commercial Congress to make the convention an international event, whose theme will be: "The Relation of the United States to the Panama Canal, Latin America, and World Commerce."

President Wilson will speak on the first day of the convention and Senator Fletcher, president of the Southern Commercial Congress, will deliver the annual address the same day. Dr. C. J. Owens, director general of the Permanent American Commission on Agricultural Co-operation, will report the results of the European investigations of agricultural co-operation, made by the commissios during a three months' European tour last Summer.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Southern Commercial Congress will hold its convention at the same time in Mobile. Many distinguished women will speak, including Miss Jane Addams, of Hull House, Chicago; the Countess of Aberdeen, and Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the United States Children's Bureau. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President, is honorary president-general of the Woman's Auxiliary, and Mrs. Thomas M. Owen, of Montgomery, Ala., is president-general.

Among the events of the convention will be a great trade pageant, a visit of naval vessels and ships of the light-house service to Mobile, and a cruise to the Panama Canal and Central America by many the delegates in a specially chartered steamer. A memorial tablet is to be erected at the Panama Canal to the memory of the late Senator John T. Morgan, of Alabama, "Father of the Canal Idea."

WEIGH YOURSELF BEFORE USING

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. The wonderful sale on this preparation since first introduced in Wilmington, and the remarkable results following its use have made the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., such enthusiastic believers in the great value of Samose that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose will not make thin people fat and restore strength and health to those who use it.

This is a strong guarantee, but the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. has seen so many of their customers who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons become plump and well, solely through the use of Samose that they feel they cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marvelous flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach, makes good rich blood, tones up the weakened system, helps to assimilate the food and makes the user plump, well and rosy.

MESSRS. DAVIS AND MEARES.

Wilmington Attorneys Furnish Topics in Raleigh Paper.

The following from the "As I Was A-Sayin'," column of Sunday's Raleigh News and Observer, will be of interest in Wilmington:

"Mr. Thomas W. Davis was speaking passionately to the Supreme Court yesterday in a railroad damage case and begging it to break a precedent by slicing a thousand dollar verdict against the Coast Line.

"Miss Kathleen Baldwin had been a passenger on a Pullman running over the Coast Line and was put off at a wayside station in the woods about dark. It was raining and before the young woman found out her predicament, the cars had gone. She sued the company and for the negligence of the conductor, the jury gave her $1,000 for her fright and humiliation.

"Mr. Davis argued that the jury was too generous. 'It was unduly influenced by the fair plaintiff who was but 19 and very pretty,' Mr. Davis said.

"Chief Justice Clark leaned over the rail smiling and said: 'Brother Davis, do you think, as a matter of law, that this court is less considerate of pretty girls than a jury?'

"The bar laughed and Mr. Davis lost his case. The question of excess as to damages, is for the trial judge and not reviewable on appeal. The court could not change its precedents and Mr. Davis lost his case."

"'I am tired of reading,' announced Hon. Iredell Meares, of Wilmington, last year the Roosevelt-Progressive candidate for Governor, a few days ago while taking the sun in front of the Yarborough Hotel.

"'Why?' he was queried.

"'Oh, we are getting to be a people who read more than we digest. We just read and don't absorb. I sometimes think that the more we read the less we know.

"'Now, here I keep on reading law, and the more I read the less I think I know. I go into court and I either know more or less than the judge. I've read one thing; he's read another.' Sometimes I have it on him and sometimes he has it on me. I think it will be a good thing for us when we read less and think more about what we have read.'

"And the funny thing about it was that just as his audience of one moved away that Col. Meares pulled a magazine from his pocket, drew his hat down over his eyes to shade his eyes from the sun, assumed a more comfortable pose, and began reading."

More than 400 patents have been issued by the United States for devices intended to harness the power of sea waves.

SWAMP LAND RECLAMATION

Operations of Brett Engineering and Contracting Company—Other Wilson News Notes of Interest Cotton Storage Warehouse

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson Oct 20,—With the prospect of a large increase of working capital Wilson people expect to see big results from the future work of Brett Engineering & Contracting Company, a local concern. Late reports indicate that this concern will proceed to develop large tracts of North Carolina swamp land.

In the Fall and Winter of 1909 the Toisnot swamp, a tract of land covering more than 3,000 acres and within a short distance of Wilson was drained by the Brett people. Prior to that time the Toisnot swamp was not considered salable land. A main drainage canal 12 miles long was dug and this with the other construction work cost $30,000. Something like 3,000 acres of land was directly affected and several thousand acres indirectly bettered. The cost of the work was borne by the owners of about 2,000 acres and the drainage tax was from $8 to $17 an acre, reckoned according to the benefit. Before the opening of the canal, the swamp land was covered with water from six inches to 3 feet in depth and only in the dry season was any effort made to get out any wood or timber and really no thought was given to any possibility of cultivating the land.

With the completion of the canal, immediate results were apparent. At this time 500 acres of the swamp land is under cultivation, and cotton, corn and tobacco yield big crops. The land is selling at $50 an acre and buyers are begging for it. Since the completion of the canal fully $15,000 worth of timber and wood has been sold from the Toisnot section, amounting to one-half of the cost of the drainage work. One farm beyond the canal but affected by it, has sold since the completion of the work for $160 an acre. Wilson County people believe in the reclamation of swamp land.

This is but one instance and not a very large one of the immense profit resulting from the drainage proposition.

Wilson is the scene of a big gathering of people on account of an auction sale of small farms five miles from town. The Whitehead planatation has been cut into tracts of 30

BUILDING AN EMPIRE— —YOU CAN HAVE A PART

For four years, The Brett Engineering and Contracting Company, a home corporation, with its main office at Wilson, N. C., has been engaged in the work of draining swamp lands. The work has been successful, and almost 100,000 acres of fertile farming land is one result. There are four million acres of land in North Carolina yet to be drained. Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia offer like opportunities. Not primarially a philanthropic enterprise, The Brett Engineering and Contracting Company has had no small part in the industrial development and prosperity of the sections of the State in which it has operated. The stockholders in the Company have realized a good profit on their investment. They are satisfied with the work and with the dividend, but they desire to do bigger things.

BENEFIT THE COMMONWEALTH AND MAKE MONEY

The capital stock of The Brett Engineering and Contracting Company has been $50,000. The stockholders have increased this to $200,000, and offer $100,000 of this capital stock to the people. Shares are $100 each. The Brett Engineering and Contracting Company has made money, is making money, and will continue to make money. Past experience, together with present contracts, lead the directors to feel safe in promising at least 8 per cent. dividend annually on the capital stock of the company. This is net to the investor, the Company paying the taxes.

Proposals for shares of this stock are invited. Stock will be allotted in the order of the receipt of the applications. Subscribers should send their checks for 25 per cent. of the amount with the application.

CORRESPONDENCE AND CO-OPERATION DESIRED

We want your co-operation. Great opportunities lie before us. The amount of your investment is with you. We hope you will let us give you full particulars of our work, past, present and future.

TWENTY SOLDIERS KILLED

Troop Train With Artillerymen Plunged Through Trestle Sunday on Way to Joint State Fair at Meridian, Miss.

Meridian, Miss., Oct. 20.—Twenty soldiers were killed and more than 100 others injured when a special troop train on the Mobile & Ohio railroad plunged through a trestle near State Line, Miss. The entire train fell a distance of 20 feet.

This casualty list is that given in a report of the disaster by Division Superintendent Pigford, of the Mobile & Ohio.

The wreck was caused by the engine tender jumping the track about 200 feet from a trestle. The engine was not derailed and passed over the trestle safely. The tender broke loose from the engine, however, and plunged with the baggage car and three coaches to the ground 25 feet below.

At 9 o'clock last night 16 bodies had been taken from the wreckage and Superintendent Pigford said in his report he was sure four more bodies were in the debris, which will not be cleared away for 24 hours.

One hundred and seventy-nine soldiers were on board the special train. They were from Fort Morgan and Fort Barancas. They were going to Meridian to participate in the Mississippi-Alabama jonit State fair. They were under command of Major Taylor, coast artillery, U. S. A. The men had been taken to Mobile early Sunday and at soon their ill-fated special left Mobile.

As meagre news of the wreck filtered into Meridian, a special relief train bearing physicians and nurses left for the scene. Other trains left from Mobile and Whistler, Ala. When it was learned in Mobile that a train bearing the dead and wounded was bound for that city, another train carrying more doctors and nurses was sent to meet the one bearing the victims.

As is usual with troop trains the coaches were well filled and when the three cars tumbled through the trestle the men had little protection. The dead and injured were entangled in a twisted mass of wreckage, making it difficult to remove dead bodies or rescue the injured.

Because of the confusion due largely to poor wire communication it was impossible last night to ascertain how many of the injured were expected to die or who they were.

The first report of the wreck sent the War Department was that 12 had been killed, but soon after it was sent other bodies were found. Superintendent Pigford is firm in his belief that at least four more bodies are in the wreckage, but until the debris is cleared a final statement of the casualties cannot be made.

GONDORFF AT IT AGAIN.

"King Wire Tapper" Touched Winnipeg Controller for $64,000.

(New York Tribune.)

The wizard touch of Frederick Gondorff, that indefatigable man who has been called "king of the wiretappers", was instantly recognized by Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty, he said yesterday, in a piece of handiwork brought to his attention by Duncan Steele Curry, a former Controller of Winnipeg. Mr. Curry picked out Gondorff's picture in the Rogues' Gallery as that of the man who robbed him of $64,000 in September by a trivial variation of the well worn wire tapping plan. Gondorff was arrested on the Curry charge yesterday, arraigned in court and released in $10,000 bail.

Gondorff at the time he was alleged to have met Curry was out on $15,000 bail in another big swindling case—that in which the victims were of Wilmington, N. C. But this fact did not seem to suggest to Gondorff's mind any sufficient reason for not making hay while the sun was shining, particularly when it was shining with such unusual brilliancy and promise.

The former Controller of Winnipeg has been in rather indifferent health in recent years, but having made a considerable fortune in real estate operations, he undertook trips to European health resorts, and later, having heard the virtues of the baths of West Baden, Ind., very highly extolled he repaired thither to make a trial of the waters.

There he met a man, prematurely gray, of about his own age and of the most engaging manners, known as "Mr. Davis". The two gentlemen took an instinctive liking to one another at once, and a few days later Mr. Davis introduced to Mr. Curry a young man who was fully as ingratiating as himself. He said that his young friend was a son of Judge Lovett, of Denver.

Time passed very pleasantly at West Baden, Ind. One of the confidences that "Mr. Lovett" made to the former Controller of Winnipeg was that he was a betting commissioner of "Charlie" Gates and other millionaire sportsmen of New York. He said he had a system that guaranteed a certain return for all money invested. That was positively all he said about the matter at that time, but the seed fell on good ground and took root.

In the fullness of time, when the three gentlemen found themselves in New York and were stopping at the Hotel Majestic, Mr. Curry let slip the fact that a certain reference to a system for the races had struck his mind with peculiar piquancy and that he would be glad to know more about the matter. His friends took him to a house in West 45th street—the police would like to know just which one—and there gave him an opportunity to make a wager.

The initial venture was not a lucky one. In fact, $14,000 was positively lost by Mr. Curry. But, as his friends explained, that was a very paltry sum, and all he needed to do was to make his bet proportionally large the next time. Such was the confidence of the Manitobian in his advisers that he wrote out a check for $50,000 and slapped it into the breach. This time his horse won. Everything came out as "Mr. Davis" predicted. The prospect was rosy. All Mr. Curry had to do was to cash his check as an earnest of good faith in order to get his money. He cashed the check and gave the $50,000 to "Mr. Davis," who said he would collect the winnings at the 45th street house.

That was the last Mr. Curry saw of "Mr. Davis" and "Mr. Lovett" until yesterday, when Frederick Gondorff was arrested and arraigned. Charles Gondorff also has been employing his leisure to good advantage while out on $15,000 bail in the Wilmington case. The chief of police of Toronto sent Commissioner Dougherty a picture of him, saying that this man had been selling bogus mining stocks in Ontario, and asked if he was known in New York. Commissioner Dougherty's reply, containing Charlie's complete record, was rather a long one.

acres and is being sold by a real estate consern. The proposition is attracting considerable attention.

Saturday afternoon the automobile of State Senator T. M. Washington, was struck by a shifting engine of the Atlantic Coast line at the Nash Street crossing and badly damaged but the occupants of the car escaped injury.

A line of freight cars on a siding obscured the vision of the driver of the automobile and bystanders state that the engine did not signal its approach.

It was a narrow escape for those in the car.

Building contractors are busy in Wilson just now. A number of residences are being erected and others are planned. Homes are under construction for Messrs. Frank Finch, John R. Dildy, M. B. Overman and J. L. Moody.

Mr. R. E. Hagan is re-modeling his home and several business warehouses are under way.

Mrs. Henry Lamm, died Sunday morning at her home in the neighborhood of Horne Chapel, eight miles from Wilson. The funeral service was held today.

The Baraca and Philathea classes of the several churches of Wilson united in a service at the Wilson Methodist Church Sunday night, celebrating the anniversary of the Baraca movement.

The program consisted of musical selections, papers read by several interested workers and addresses.

Jane Barnes, the negro woman held by the police as accessory to the murder of Will McCuller has been released. The police accepting her statement that Luther Woodard did the shooting. She says that McCuller attempted to enter the window and Woodard fired the shot, which killed him.

Mrs. J. J. Pittmen died at her home near Saratoga, this county, Friday night. The funeral service was held Sunday. Mrs. Pittman was 45 years old and leaves a husband and three children.

Cofield Barnes, a county convict, was thrown from one of the wagons of the county road force Saturday and badly injured. Barnes was taken to a local hospital for treatment. His injuries are considered serious.

Wilson County farmers have decided on a cotton storage warehouse and a committee is looking for a site.

The directors of the warehouse company have elected B. E. Howard, pre- and W. W. Graves, Secretary and treasurer.

CHURCH DEDICATED.

Impressive Services at Hay Street Church of Fayetteville Sunday.

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 20.—With impressive services conducted by Bishop J. H. McCoy, of Birmingham, Ala., who has been assigned to hold the North Carolina and Western North Carolina Conferences of the M. E. Church, South, next month, the Hay Street Methodist Episcopal church, South, of this city, was dedicated yesterday morning. The Hay Street church was completed in 1908, but its dedication had been delayed until yesterday owing to a church law which forbids the dedicating of a Methodist house of worship until it is free of debt. Three former pastors of the church, Rev. G. F. Smith, of the Memorial church, of Durham, under whom the building of the edifice was carried to a conclusion; Rev. L. E. Thompson, presiding elder of the Wilmington district, and Dr. L. L. Nash, of Hamlet, conference evangelist, assisted in the dedicatory services, which covered two and a half hours, and were attended by six or seven hundred people.

Hooray! Blood Free of Impurities

It is certainly remarkable how quickly the action of S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, shows itself in the skin.

There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood, or from the fine network of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return. Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine network of blood vessels in the skin is constantly selecting from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue, and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless.

You will be surprised and delighted at the quick change if you will use S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. Its action in the skin is quite sensational. These facts are most fully explained in a book on skin troubles sent by the Swift Specific Co., 213 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get a bottle to-day and banish all skin afflictions.

When you ask for S. S. S. look out for the common trick of trying to sell you something else. Don't be misled.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, NEW Hanover County.—In Justice's Court, before George Harriss, J. P.

To the Sheriff of New Hanover County; Greeting:—

Whereas, Lately in the Justice's Court in and for the County of New Hanover, at a session of said court, held on the 14th day of October, 1913, in the office of the undersigned, in the City of Wilmington, N. C., Judgment Nisi for $200.00 was rendered in favor of the State against John W. Steers and his security, to wit, the sum of $200.00 deposited as bail, according to the provisions of an act of the General Assembly, condemning bail for the personal appearance of said John W. Steers at Justice's Court, in the matter of the State against John W. Steers, then pending in said court, I therefore command you that you make known to said John W. Steers to be and to appear before the undersigned on the 25th day of Oct., 1913, at 9 o'clock A. M., and show cause, if any he has, why the $200.00 deposited by him for his appearance at said court on the 14th day of Oct., 1913, should not be condemned and paid over to the School Fund of said County, and why final judgment should not be entered against him, under said undertaking; And the undersigned having been apprised of the fact that the said John W. Steers having fled the State of North Carolina to avoid standing trial, this notice is ordered to be published in The Morning Star, a daily newspaper published in New Hanover County, notifying the said defendant John W. Steers to appear before me at 9:00 o'clock A. M., October 25, 1913, and answer said notice.

This Oct. 14, 1913.

SOUTHERN BISHOPS ON NEGRO

Atlanta Prelate Made Strong Plea for a "Nations Wards" at Triennial Episcopal General Convention in New York

New York, Oct. 19.—Two of the southern bishops attending the triennial general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church discussed the negro problem tonight at a mass meeting held at the Cathedrial of St. John the Divine, under the auspices of the American church institute for negroes. Bishop Nelson, of Atlanta, made "a plea for a nation's ward."

Bishop Gailor, of Tennessee, had for his subject "work of the church among the negroes of the south."

"It sounds to me like either affectation or ignorance," said the Atlanta prelate, "to hear that there is no negro problem, when for one-third of the negroes resident in the United States there has been dispute and discussion north and east, south and west as to the best method of dealing with the question of his uplift."

Notoriety, he continued, the exploitation of the negro's rights and woes, good points and vices has been the greatest hindrance to this work. Undue prominence increases self-importance.

"An immeasurable wrong was done" said Bishop Nelson, "when the ballot was given to a people untrained for citizenship. When freedom and franchise were given the nation. He still needs to be fitted for citizenship. He needs a vitalizing religion. He needs education but not so much of the sort which some have been trying to give him—the arts and sciences, the classics and romance languages and music and theology. He needs instruction in honor, righteousness, thrift, truth and purity more than he needs the ballot."

Bishop Gailor agreed that the sudden enfranchisement of the negro was a great mistake. "But after all our troubles," he said, "we are beginning to see daylight and it must be said for the negro that his progress has justified all that has been done for him."

LENOIR COUNTY TAXABLES.

Nearly Million Increase—Rev. F. S. Love Sails—Other News.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Oct 20.—Lenoir county is richer now in listed taxables by $728,322 than at the corresponding time last year, according to statistics given out today by Carl W. Pridgen, register of deeds. Of the increase, Kinston township is credited with more than half a million, or to be exact, $559,021.

Of this sum, $407,761 was in personal property and $16,945 in increased value of farming lands in the township, while town lots increased $126,565 in valuation. Every township in the county showed an increase save one, Neuse, but the loss of $32,950 there is accounted for and will be recovered, enough unlisted property having been discovered to offset the supposed depreciation. In Moseley Hall township, because of disastrous fires in the town of LaGrange, a loss was expected; however, a gain of more than $32,000 is listed. Every citizen in Kinston would have a small-sized fortune if the total property were equally apportioned, according to the tax books for the property per capita in the corporation is $1,354.76. The total amount of taxes levied this year is $81,858.55, an increase of $13,408.02, while the total levy by the State and county in Lenoir this year is not materially increased per capita.

A letter received here today stated that Rev. F. S. Love, until last Sunday the pastor of Queen Street Methodist church in Kinston, sailed late Saturday on the Lampton & Holt liner Verdi for Rio de Janeiro, which port he will reach about November 3rd. Mr. Love has been spending a week in New York outfitting preparatory to his stay of five years in the Brazilian Methodist mission field, as professor of English and psychology in a native college. Accompanying him are his wife and ther one child.

Kinston will have no vagrants in future. The city court is experimenting with an entirely new departure here, a chain gang. Up to the present time the short termers convicted in the municipal court for misdemeanors have been sent to the county roads, but the mayor and street commissioner believe that they can be worked on the city's thoroughfares to advantage. Already, following the rumor that the new auxiliary to the street department would be organized, there is a perceptible falling off in the number of cases tried on the vagrancy charge, and it is believed that soon the city will be entirely eliminated.

"A FOOL AND HIS MONEY."

George Barr McCutcheon. (Dodd, Mead & Co., N. Y., price $1.35, at DeRossett's.) This latest McCutcheon novel is another story of romantic love in an European castle, centuries old, with dungeons, secret passages, mysteries and buried treasures, withal old family retainers who are as loyal to a trust as they are stupid and exasperating. In an isolated tower, the "Fool" discovers, after his purchase of the estate, the heroine, and both the "Fool" and the heroine are Americans; the villain, the husband of the lady fair, is an Austrian nobleman, who made the usual exchange of a rusty title, huge debts and no morals, for an American heiress and her millions. Every reader of "Graustark" and "Truxton King" will welcome the new story, which moves all the time, is rich in entertaining incidents and situations, full of humor and salted to taste with wholesome comment on things. The lordly European with nothing but family history and bad habits, pointing with scorn to the crass American parvenue, and the boorish American tourist, are shown up in most agreeable style. The book calls you until you have finished with it, and the end is just as you would have it—just as it ought to be. It went on sale yesterday at DeRosset's book store. McCutcheon has lost none of his skill as a story teller, and his latest effort will not disappoint the hundreds of thousands of readers who have enjoyed other novels from his pen.

The coast counties of North Carolina are among the most progressive. They used to be behind the Piedmont section. At least it appeared so. But that is not the case any longer. They have waked up. One of the best is Carteret. This county raises and ships vast quantities of potatoes. Its sweets are famous for their excellence. Of course, the fish and oyster business is something tremendous and with better freight rates all of its industries will prosper to a greater degree. The farmers are now beginning to grow tobacco and here are the beginnings it is believed of another source of wealth and prosperity for this fine old county.—Raleigh News and Observer.

SENIORS WIN AT TRINITY.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Oct. 20.—In winning the annual inter-class relay race here Saturday, the Seniors accomplished a feat that no previous Senior class at Trinity College has ever effected. The annual inter-class relay race is the principal athletic event of the season at Trinity, and great interest is manifested in it by students, faculty and friends of the college.

The preliminary for this race was held last Saturday afternoon, and at that time the various teams were selected. Since that time the respective captains have had their men out every afternoon undergoing vigorous training. This squad training together with the previous course of individual training has resulted in one of the closest and most interesting races ever staged at Trinity.

The race was a closely fought contest from start to finish, and the four racers from the various classes kept rather close together so that it was impossible to predict the winning team until the beginning of the ninth mile, when Bost, of the Senior team, having gained about 60 yards, put Thompson, the succeeding Senior, in a lead of over a hundred yards. The Seniors gained a lead of about 40 yards in the first mile, Garrett, of that class, showing up in splendid form, and this lead was at no time throughout the race dangerously threatened.

Each individual runner of the Senior team put up a magnificent exhibition of form. The Seniors made the entire ten miles in 55 minutes and 28 seconds. Coman, for the Sophomores, made a wonderful run, passing two of his companions and threatening the lead of the Seniors more than it was at any other time threatened, Goforth, who ran the ninth mile for the Juniors, also showed up well. He passed the rival Sophomore runner who was several yards in front of him at the start and cinched his class' claim upon second place.

This is the first time in the history of track athletics at Trinity that a Senior class has ever distinguished itself by carrying off such an honor as this. As a rule heretofore the Seniors have contented themselves with lagging behind and have been satisfied with merely being in the race at all.

Tnthusiasm ran high when Thompson brought the message which had been entrusted to the Senior team to the flag-pole on the campus, where the tenth mile began. Cordle took the message here and was followed around the entire track by crowds of wildly enthusiastic class mates, howling and shrieking yells of encouragement at the top of their voices. The last member of the victorious team was hoisted aloft on the shoulders of his cheering companions and borne off amid the uproarious tumult of the crowd.

Following the usual custom, each of the teams was entrusted with a sealed message to be read publicly at the finish of the race by the college president. The Senior's message was short, concise, and to the point. It was "Finitum est." The Junior message was "Keep your eyes on the class of 1916—it will be in front at the finish." The Freshmen contented themselves with the following expressive legend: "It takes a fast pace to kill a rat."

The Seniors finished the race with a time record of 55 minutes and 28 seconds; the Juniors came second with a time record of 56:17; following them came the Sopohomores with a time record of 57 minutes.

Nero's Claim to Distinction.

Aubrey Beardsley, the famous artist, once outshone Oscar Wilde, who was the greatest wit and conversationalist that ever lived.

At a dinner at which both were guests Wilde talked interestingly on Nero for nearly two hours. When he concluded, Beardsley, who was only a boy, spoke up:

"Mr. Wilde," he said, "you have forgotten to mention Nero's greatest religious achievement.'

"I must confess I do not know to what you are referring," admitted Wilde.

"I am referring to his action of pouring oil on Christians and setting fire to them," said Beardsley. "Wasn't it Nero who lighted the first fires of Christianity that illuminated the world?"

SUFFERED AWFUL PAINS

For Sixteen Years. Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moretown. Vermont.—"I was troubled with pains and irregularities for sixteen years, and was thin, weak and nervous. When I would lie down it would seem as if I was going right down out of sight into some dark hole, and the window curtains had faces that would peek out at me, and when I was out of doors it would seem as if something was going to happen. My blood was poor, my circulation was so bad I would be like a dead person at times. I had female weakness badly, my abdomen was sore and I had awful pains.

"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash and they certainly did wonders for me. My troubles disappeared and I am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. W. F. SAWYER, River View Farm, Moretown, Vermont.

Another Case.

Gifford, Iowa.—"I was troubled with female weakness, also with displacement. I had very severe and steady headache, also pain in back and was very thin and tired all the time. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am cured of these troubles. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. INA MILLSLAGLE, Gifford, Iowa.

Men of the generation that is passing, while they hold the world in their hands today, must soon relinquish it to the generation that awaits.

It is important that young men who are waiting to take over a world, and who must soon manage it somehow, should understand what they are about to take over, and should come to some sort of conclusions as to just what they propose to do with it.

"Crowds" (by Gerald Stanley Lee), provides two things—an inspired picture of the world as it actually is today, not as it was ten years ago, or yesterday, but as it is today; and an equally inspired prophecy of what it is going to be tomorrow.

The book is not a formula for a new civilization, which might come to pass if men and institutions were something they are not. It is a program for the men who have got to live in the civilization we now have and who have got to work out their salvation, if at all, with the tools and materials of a practical present—not with the tools and materials of an Utopian future.

No business man and no professional man—and especially no young man—is giving himself quite a fair chance in our competitive civilization until he reads "Crowds."
